Miofsky, Worthen are re-elected to GC school board

THOMAS G. MIOFSKY

L. MONROE WORTHEN

In what was described by the winners as "a vote of confidence" in the current Granite City Board of Education, Board President Thomas Miofsky and incumbent Board Member L. Monroe Worthen were re-elected during school balloting Saturday.

A total of 5,760 persons voted. The Miofsky-Worthen team topped David Partney and George F. Crews in 14 of the district's 16 voting precincts, including Stallings School, where the incumbents feared a backlash from a proposal currently under consideration to close the school as an economy move.

"That is sweet to get that one," Miofsky was heard to say when the Stallings results came in early in the evening's tally. District-wide, Miofsky accumulated the most votes, with 3,786, and Worthen had 3,359. Partney was third with 1,912 and Crews had 1,645 votes.

Miofsky commented as the tallies began to come into the Granite City Board of Education office, showing a large vote turnout. "We are happy this many people came out to show an interest in their schools. This turnout is greatly appreciated, as is voters' confidence in the board members who were up for re-election."

Worthen also issued a statement when his victory became clear, commenting, "This many votes is a good indication that a lot of people got out and worked and voted. The votes show confidence in Tom and me. It makes you feel good to know you must be doing something right."

"We have a good school district here and hope to improve it in the years ahead. It is good to see this much interest in a school election," Worthen concluded.

Partney and Crews were victorious at Washington School, where Partney tallied 240 votes, Crews 222, Miofsky 126 and Worthen 123.

At Logan School, Partney led with 82 votes, Miofsky was second with 71, Worthen had 69 and Crews had 67.

The other 14 precincts went for the Miofsky-Worthen duo. At Stallings School, Worthen was the top vote getter with 129 votes, Miofsky followed with 125, Crews tallied 69 and Partney 61.

Votes for Miofsky, Worthen, Crews and Partney, in that order, at the other school polling places follow.

AIRPORT PROPOSAL is explained Thursday afternoon by Dr. Donald Coleman, left, chairman of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce airport committee, to Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Bowler, center, representing the city airport committee. At right is Dr. Leland Holt, also on the chamber committee which has suggested the development of the Lakeside limited-use airport into a regional or city facility. The site's proximity to the St. Louis area and its location near rail lines and major highways makes it an ideal area for the development of an industrial park as well, the committee believes.

Council to hear airport plan

The airport committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and a representative of the city airport committee met at noon Thursday in the Chamber's offices to discuss the development of regional or Granite City airport in the area.

Municipal government backing is being sought. Members of the Chamber's committee present for the meeting were: Dr. Donald Coleman, chairman, and William Nichols, Richard Kerch, Dr. Leland Holt, William

Lehn and Edward F. Reiske, executive director of the Chamber. Dr. Coleman explained to Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Bowler, representing the city, that substantial federal funds could be obtained to develop a 5,000-foot-runway general aviation facility on the site of the present Lakeside limited-use airport on Highway 111 two and one half miles north of Interstate 70.

The first step in obtaining the funds is a feasibility study which may cost between $5,000 and $5,500.

The Chamber has suggested that the airport be established by the city so that a special district would not have to be created. Creation of a governmental district might slow down the process of getting funds for the development, it was asserted.

An outline of the long-range plan was presented by Dr. Coleman.

Since the proposed developed area is bordered on the north by railroad lines and is located near Interstate 70, a main artery in the St. Louis metropolitan area, the development of an industrial park also may be favorable, it was stated.

The Illinois Department of Transportation may be interested in a 25-acre tract for the building of offices and other facilities.

The Department also uses light aircraft within the state making an airport site appealing at a district office location, the discussion showed.

Bowler asked the committee if any correspondence has been made with St. Louis-based firms which use aircraft to see if they have any interest in the facility. Dr. Coleman said some firms have been contacted but responses from many of these have not yet been received.

Bowler asked Dr. Coleman to

Mrs. Bosworth, Zeisset elected

Madison school district voters Saturday selected the first woman in nearly three decades to serve on the Madison Board of Education, as Mrs. Billie Bosworth came in second behind incumbent Richard Zeisset in a three-way race for two full-term seats on the board.

Mrs. Irene Hill was board president in the 1940s.

Mrs. Bosworth's victory eliminates Elvers Johnson from the board.

Paul Bargiel was elected to fill a one-year seat on the board. He was unopposed.

Zeisset tallied the most votes for three-year board positions with 501 votes. Mrs. Bosworth tallied 467 and Johnson was 30 votes behind with 437.

Bargiel received 576 in his unopposed race. A total of 878 votes was cast at the district's four polling places, including 293 at Madison Junior High School, 341 at Harris School, 151 at Blair School and 93 at Dunbar School.

Votes in each precinct for Zeisset, Mrs. Bosworth, Johnson and Bargiel, in that order, were: Junior High 191-194-114-224; Harris 268-241-100-294; Blair 19-21-141-25, and Dunbar 22-11-62-33.

In the Venice school district, it was a case of "everybody won," as incumbents John Boush and Gerald Cicio were unopposed for two three-year board seats and incumbent George Wade had no competition for a one-year seat.

Cicio tallied the most votes in the district's two polling places with 158, including 133 at Venice High School and 25 at the Eagle

"(1) We strongly suggest that the Illinois Conservation Department complete the acquisition of the land as originally outlined with no further delay.

"Since the money is available, there is no need to wait. As it exists now, the land that has been bought by the state is simply out of production for farming and for public recreation as originally planned."

Harris wins

Robert A. Harris, a Granite City realtor, ran second in a field of four candidates to capture one of three board seats of Belleville Area College in Saturday's school board elections.

In doing so, Harris took the board seat of incumbent Mearl Justus of Cahokia who trailed in the voting by more than 1,300 votes.

Two other incumbent board members were re-elected — John A. Becker of Sparta who led in the voting, and Edward F. O'Malley of Belleville who placed third.

Becker tallied 8,621 votes in the 101 polling places of the BAC District, which includes the Granite City, Madison and Venice School Districts. Harris polled 8,486 votes, O'Malley 8,229 and Justus 6,877.

Harris, who lives at 4037 Kathy Drive, polled a heavy margin in the 22 Quad-City polling places, leading the voting in every precinct, according to unofficial returns.

A total of 13,743 voters cast ballots in the college board election.

Harris, Becker and O'Malley will be officially seated Wednesday.

For those who have been collecting such items as aluminum pull tabs, computer price codes, and cigarette wrappers in the hopes of buying someone time on the kidney machine — please stop.

The collections are based on unfounded rumors. Though the thought behind the action is most admirable, there's little good it can do,

Charge is filed in State Park incident

Madison County Board member Homer Boothman of State Park was arrested on a charge of battery Saturday after he allegedly tried to run over political adversary Joy Boyer in front of State Park School.

Boothman was picked up Saturday afternoon by Madison County sheriff's deputies and held for several hours in the county jail before posting $100 cash bond.

Boyer said he will confer with the state's attorney's office today in an effort to change the charge to aggravated battery or attempted murder. Boyer, a former sheriff's deputy and member of the State Park police unit, said he believes an aggravated battery charge is justified because he alleged Boothman used the vehicle as a weapon on a public thoroughfare.

Witnesses reported that Boyer was in front of the school building talking to George Habermehl who was seated in a car in the drive.

They reported a pickup truck drove by and the driver, Tim Boothman, son of the board member, called to Boyer to "get out of the drive."

Boyer related the truck proceeded to the corner where Homer Boothman changed places with his son and then drove back toward the school.

Boyer charged the truck swerved as it reached him and that he dove onto the hood of the Habermehl car, injuring a shoulder.

Boothman denied that the truck swerved and contended Boyer staged the incident.

Physicals for Special Olympics

Students wishing to compete in the Special Olympics, track and field events on May 6 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are required to have their entry forms and physical examination reports turned in by Thursday, Mrs. Kaye Hahne, president of the Parents for Special Education group, reminded prospective participants today.

Those having had physicals accepted prior to the Special Olympics, bowling and swimming meets are not required to take and additional examination, Mrs. Hahne said. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Hahne at 451-9532.

Prepare for opening of GC branch library

The Granite City Public Library will open its new branch library in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center in early May, according to the library's director, Robert Slack.

Mrs. Lombardi dies at 59

Mrs. Bernadine C. (Dellamano) Lombardi, 59, 2108 Amos Ave., Ill for six days, died at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was employed as supervisor of nurses for three years at the Professional Care Nursing Home, Troy, Ill.

Mrs. Lombardi was a member of St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church, and belonged to the St. Elizabeth Nurses Alumnae. She entered nursing training at St. Elizabeth Hospital in 1930 and graduated in 1941.

Born in Collinsville, Mrs. Lombardi resided in this area 37 years.

Survivors include her husband, Michael J. Lombardi; one son, Michael Lombardi Jr., Collinsville; a daughter, Miss Leslie Lombardi of Granite City; her mother, Mrs. Ida Dellamano of Fort Meyers, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. Edward (Alvera) Funderburk of Fort Meyers; one brother, Talbert "Pouch" Dellamano, Jr., of Collinsville; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Supervising the branch facility will be Greg McGee, a five-year employee of the library.

Irene Mooshegan will serve as the desk assistant of the branch. Two part-time employees also will be on staff at the new facility.

The branch will have a total capacity of 15,000 volumes and also will have a selection of periodicals and newspapers as well.

The new facility will be open Tuesday through Friday from 1 to 9 p.m. and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

The library board is discussing the possibility of Sunday hours.

The 2,200-square-foot facility will feature a children's area and will seat nearly 30 patrons. Slack said that the library branch will be stocked with primarily duplicate copies from the main library but new purchases also will be used.

This is the first branch facility within the Lewis and Clark Library System which serves a seven-county area.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Fogg dies

Mrs. Henrietta M. Fogg, 72, of 3337 Wayne Ave., Killeen, Tex., formerly of Granite City, died at 3 a.m. Saturday, in the Metroplex Hospital, Killeen, Tex.

She had been ill for 15 years and was hospitalized nine days. Mrs. Fogg was born in Illinois and resided in Granite City for many years prior to moving to Texas 15 years ago. She retired 10 years ago from St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been employed as a laboratory technician.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Jefferson celebration

Thomas Jefferson's birthday will be commemorated in two special programs sponsored by the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial. April 13 marks the 255th anniversary of the third U.S. President's birth.

On Thursday, April 13, a presentation focusing on Jefferson's private life, as reflected in letters to and from his grandchildren, will be given at 12 noon in the East Courtroom of the Old Courthouse. Birthday cake will be served free of charge.

On Sunday, April 16, a program will look at Jefferson's role in the Louisiana Purchase and in subsequent exploration of the newly acquired territory by Lewis and Clark. Capt. Meriwether Lewis will be a featured character. The presentation will commence at 1:30 p.m. in the Museum of Westward Expansion, beneath the Gateway Arch. Sunday's free program will be followed by a performance by the Cahokia Mounds Indian dancers.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial honors the accomplishments of Thomas Jefferson and the period of Westward expansion.

State studying college's bids

Mechanical bids and construction bids for Belleville Area College's Phase III-B have been received by the Capital Development Board in Springfield.

Low bids for mechanical work included: plumbing—Fritz, Inc. at a bid of $49,587; heating—Fritz, Inc. at a bid of $273,415; ventilating—Fritz, Inc. at a bid of $271,764; electrical—Rakers Electric Company at a bid of $239,559; and off site sewage—Ehret Plumbing and Heating at a bid of $79,128 for half the work.

Bauer Brothers Construction will pay the second half of the sewage costs, since facilities it is buildings across the road from the college will also use the sewage lines.

Low bidder for the construction itself was Wil-Freds, Inc. of Alton at a bid of $1,987,600. Others who bid on the construction work were L. Wolf Company of Granite City ($2,020,000) and J. J. Altman & Co. of East Saint Louis ($2,144,700).

The bids are awaiting acceptance by the Capital Development Board.

Sanitary district tax loan approved

A financial crisis which forced the Metro-East Sanitary District to lay off more than 40 persons so far this year was eased today after an announcement that a loan of $600,000 through the sale of tax anticipation warrants has been authorized by the First National Bank of East St. Louis.

News of the bank's acceptance of the tax warrants came, however, almost simultaneously with a report that a large section of the main sanitary sewer line to the Cahokia sewage treatment plant had broken at Levine and Laverne drives in Cahokia during the weekend.

The break was described as a major one and the engineering department began bypass pumping over an 800-foot section of the collapsed line.

The newly broken area is not part of an earlier break for which an application for $1.2 million for replacement has been filed with the Environmental Protection Agency.

Members of the board met in an emergency session at 9 a.m. today and reported the district will file another grant request to repair the line at that point. Engineers estimated it will cost $100,000 for repairs.

The board took no action this morning to call back employees who have been laid off.

The $600,000 tax loan will enable the district to pay salaries of employees who have continued working without pay as a result of financial problems. Those still working agreed to do so without pay until funds became available.

543 in March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon Sunday

Sunday was a lovely day for a walk and 543 people, mostly local students, decided to benefit the March of Dimes by participating in the 1978 Walk-A-Thon in Granite City.

"It was pretty warm for a 10-mile hike and many good neighbors along the route turned on hoses to give the kids a drink of water as they passed by," Jack Haug, Walk-A-Thon chairman said today.

Assistance was provided the walkers by the Free Spirits CB Radio Club and the Granite City Police Department, Haug said.

Members of the Tri-City Shrine Club Compact Team led the parade of volunteer marchers from the Wilson Park rink pavilion, where the event started and ended.

Accompanying the youthful and enthusiastic participants were Harold Tankley and his daughter, Vicki, who is the Madison County March of Dimes Foster Child, and Gene Gunderson and son, Dane, who also has been helped by the March of Dimes.

Both Vicki and Dane were pushed by their fathers in wheelchairs.

Funds are collected by the walkers from supporters who earlier pledged varying amounts in donations for each mile completed. Pledge money must be turned in prior to May 9, Haug said.

Revenue Service advice—double check tax forms

With a week remaining until the April 15 deadline for filing federal income tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service is cautioning taxpayers to spend a few minutes after the forms are completed to double check their work.

According to the IRS, many taxpayers who postpone their tax work until the closing days of filing season submit tax returns containing mistakes which are apparently the result of hasty preparation. Such mistakes, including mathematics errors, missing entries and unallowable deductions, often delay the processing of a return.

For taxpayers expecting refunds, the delays caused by certain errors can set back receipt of the refund by several weeks.

Each year, the IRS urges taxpayers to file early, but millions nevertheless wait until April to complete the annual task.

Driver faces three charges

Mark A. Shaw, 19, of 2400 Morrison Road, received three traffic citations after his auto struck a traffic signal and a fire hydrant at Nameoki Road and Lindell Boulevard at 12:05 a.m. Sunday, knocking both down. Shaw was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident, no valid registration and failure to transfer his auto title. He said he was northbound on Nameoki Road when a blue car struck the front of his from the shopping center complex, forcing his auto off the roadway.

Safety, non-litter drive planned in Madison schools

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
What started as a Harris elementary school campaign in 1970-71 to teach safety and anti-litter practices to Harris School children has now been adopted citywide in Madison.

The two-week campaign will begin Monday, April 24. Porter H. Cawly, principal at Harris School, started it all over his concern about the "children" getting hurt or killed by automobiles.

During the school year of 1970-71, six Harris School children were hurt in accidents and one child was killed.

The campaign has proven effective in alerting the children going to and from school, as well as the drivers around the schools. Since the fatal accident, there have been no children from Harris School killed going to and from school and the accident rate has declined sharply.

In 1971-72 there were three Harris children hurt in accidents involving autos. The following year only two were hurt and from 1973 through the end of the 1978 school year, only one accident occurred in each of the two school years.

During the 1975-76 school year there were no accidents and in 1976-77 only one.

As of today, during the 1977-78 school year, there again has been no Harris children struck by autos, according to Cawly. The program was working so well two years ago the Madison Board of Education adopted the program for all elementary schools.

Harris, Blair, Dunbar, Louis Baer, St. Mary-St. Mark elementary schools will participate again this year. The second part of the campaign will be a drive to make the children and residents of the city aware of the need to keep the schools, playgrounds, parks and streets clean by not littering. Madison City Council members will visit various areas in their wards and encourage the residents to clean up and pick up the area around the homes.

$6,705 fire loss in March

A total fire loss of $6,705 was reported in Granite City during March, according to a report by Fire Chief Don Parente.

The report said the fire department responded to a total of 56 alarms, with $5,000 estimated loss to buildings, $575 loss to contents and $3,130 loss to motor vehicles.

The report does not include losses to industrial buildings. Alarms answered during the month included 12 calls for buildings, eight for motor vehicles, 18 rubbish and weeds, four inhalator and rescue calls, four false alarms and ten others.

MEMBER OF CHAMPION ACADEMY DRILL TEAM
Cadet Darrell Toussaint of Granite City is a member of the champion Missouri Military Academy (Mexico, Mo.) Fusilier drill team which took part in the National Invitation Drill Meet April 7-8 in Champaign. The 25-Cadet unit has marched in three inaugural parades, including the 1977 inauguration of President Jimmy Carter.

The drill team has appeared on network television nearly a dozen times, performing a sequence of regulation Army movements, continental drill and self-originated maneuvers. Cadet Toussaint, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Toussaint, 117 Riviera Drive, is a senior cadet at the academy.

MOTORCYCLE STOLEN
A 1977 green Kawasaki motorcycle was stolen from beneath the carport at the home of Michael W. Fulkerson, 2223 Fortune Drive, he reported at noon Thursday. Value of the 900cc machine was not listed.

REINHARDT-Reactor Sells-BETTER LIVING!

Cooperating with the schools from the beginning of the drive are the Madison police and fire departments.

The campaign will include poster making, essays and visitation to the schools by police and firemen.

Letters will be sent home to the parents informing them of the safety and non-litter campaign and asking the parents throughout the district to cooperate and give full support to the event.

7 errors on many Illinois tax returns

With the help of the seven-point checklist on the back of this year's Illinois income tax return (IL-1040), state taxpayers can avoid errors that cause processing and refund delays, officials of the Illinois Department of Revenue have commented.

They said that simple errors — like forgetting to sign the return, or to attach W-2s — can add weeks to the processing of a refund. A mistake can also result in interest charges for the taxpayer if taxes are due the state.

Department records consistently show that taxpayers who wait to file near the tax deadline are more likely to make errors than those who file early, it is asserted.

One way of avoiding some of the filing errors is to use the checklist on the reverse side of the IL-1040 form. It reminds taxpayers to:

- Use the pre-printed label on the income tax booklet.
  - Double-check Social Security numbers.
  - Double-check arithmetic.
  - Attach W-2s, IL-W-2Gs, and other supporting documents.
  - Enclose a check made payable to the Illinois Department of Revenue for any tax owed, and include the Social Security number on the check.
  - Sign the return and have the spouse sign it if it's a joint return.
  - Use the return envelope provided with the tax booklet.
- State income tax information and assistance are available free of charge by calling 1-800-252-8972, a toll-free number.

A drive-through carport on the side of the house, original stained glass windows and a wide open staircase are features of the downtown landmark.

Downtown Restoration Society plans 4th spring house tour

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

More and more the trend of young families and newly-married couples is to move to older neighborhoods in their community and purchase large homes and restore the once proud structures to modern homes, and yet retain the atmosphere of a bygone era.

The renovation movement in downtown Granite City was spearheaded by 13 couples who organized the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society in early 1973.

They began the task of remodeling houses, using the talents, ingenuity and exchange of ideas of the members at discussion meetings.

During the spring of 1974 the members staged the first house tour to demonstrate to the community the feasibility of transforming property from near ruin stages to attractive dwellings.

The fourth spring house tour, sponsored by the DNRS is planned this year for Sunday, May 7, and will feature five homes and the First Baptist Church, located on the corner of 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Chairmen are Jan Harmon and Mrs. Edith Mitzel. They announced the tour will be conducted from 1 to 5 p.m. and a Craft Fair will be set up on the 24th Street parkway between Cleveland Boulevard and Delmar Avenue. Entertainment and refreshments also will be available at the fairgrounds, they added.

Tickets for the house tour may be purchased in advance for $2.50 from any member of the organization or on the day of the event for $3 per person.

Area residents are invited, by the sponsoring group, to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry (Linda) Groom at 2230 Cleveland Blvd.

They purchased the house in September 1977, and have refurbished the open staircase and retained the original woodburning fireplace in the living room. The four-bedroom house was built in the early 1900's and also has a family room and dining room with bay windows.

The bathroom on the second floor has the original fixtures and throughout the house the owners have completed a modern decor with accents of country charm.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hug, 2237 Cleveland Blvd., was built in 1902 by A. W. and Mamie Eisenmayer, with all woodwork, staircase and desec's bench constructed of oak.

There is a working fireplace in the living room and the butler's pantry has been converted into a kitchen now. A second floor bathroom has the original fixtures including a unique marble washbasin.

A large fitting room is adjacent to the master bedroom and all furnishings are a harmonious blend of colonial and antique.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Mathis, 2158 Cleveland Blvd., was built by the Biel Construction Co., in 1903, and sold for $4,000 in 1909 to William Lynch.

Before being purchased by the Mathis family the home had been vacant one year. They have completely refurbished the house which features a parquetry foyer with an open stairway, and three woodburning fireplaces.

Another landmark in the downtown area is the home at 2118 State St., now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ross. The structure will be remembered as the former Tate Funeral Home and later was operated as the Hodge Funeral Home, during the years 1920 to 1960.

The present kitchen once served as the chapel and the original stained glass windows are still intact. All picture frames in the dining area were found "hidden" in the walls of the third floor.

This house is a blend of today and yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe (Edith) Mitzel became the fourth owners of the house at 2209 Delmar Ave., which was constructed in 1901 as the first house on Delmar Avenue.

Reminiscent of the Victorian era the house has a porch that encloses the front facade and curves around the side to the bay windows in the dining room. Entry through the front door brings one into a large foyer and open oak stairway. To the left is a library. There are two fireplaces in the house and the bay windows give a light and airy appearance to the living-dining room area.

On the second floor are two bedrooms, a family room and plant room.

The First Baptist Church, included in the tour, was organized on Aug. 6, 1901, with 22 charter members. Elder W. V. Morgan was the first pastor called. Second pastor was the Rev. W. H. Barnes, who undertook a building program campaign.

The Niedringhaus trustees gave the church the north corner lot in 1902 and the cornerstone was laid in 1903 with the building completed and dedicated June 12, 1904.

The building was soon outgrown, and a new one was started in 1921 and completed in 1924.

All the stained glass windows, installed in the present facility, are from the first church building. The house next door was established as their educational building in 1933.

The current minister is the Rev. Marvin Peters. Greeters will be at the church to answer questions concerning the church and its programs.

Area town meetings tomorrow

Tomorrow is the date set by law for townships throughout Illinois to hold annual town meetings, at which the electors (all registered voters in those townships) are given the opportunity to study the townships' bylaws, appoint the attorneys, review the supervisors' annual reports and act on other business which may be brought before the meetings.

Venice Township will hold the only daytime annual meeting, which will begin at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall at 4250 Highway 162, and the Chouteau Township meeting will be held in its new town hall and community center building behind the Midwest Motel at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Energy goal, Kaskaskia development are linked

Completion of a national energy program and further development of the Kaskaskia River hold vast potential for the economic development of the entire Kaskaskia valley region, Albert A. Wilson, board chairman of the Kaskaskia Industrial Development Corporation, told a subcommittee of the U.S. House of Representatives last week.

U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (Dem., 23d Illinois) arranged for Wilson and Herbert W. Brown Jr., board vice-president, to appear in support of the Kaskaskia River navigation project.

Wilson told the House Appropriation Committee's Subcommittee on Public Works that the Kaskaskia River Basin is "probably one of the most outstanding water conservation, flood control and navigation projects in the Midwest."

"The Kaskaskia River Valley is geared to accept plants for the conversion of coal to gas with its billions of tons of virgin coal, ample water supplies, central location in the United States, and all modes of transportation to move commodities."

A Carter Administration proposal to increase coal production by 50 percent would result in a corresponding increase in the need for inland transportation facilities, Wilson emphasized.

Such increased coal production would make the Kaskaskia—located in one of the largest untapped coal areas in the country—even more important, Wilson said.

The Kaskaskia River development project, which is now approximately 80 percent complete, calls for development of the river into 37 navigable miles, with vast recreational areas as well.

Estimated expenditures for the project in July 1978-June 1979 are $4,200,000, which will be used to construct a new railroad bridge near New Athens.

More than $115 million already has been spent by the Army Corps of Engineers in developing the river.

6 GC students chosen for young authors' conference

Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. Briggs has announced that eight students from Madison County have been selected to attend Illinois' fourth Young Authors' Conference. It will be held April 29 at Jacksonville for the southern area of the state.

He commented, "This conference is becoming an Illinois tradition and was begun to foster children's writing."

"Co-sponsored by the Illinois Office of Education and the Language Experience Special Interest Council, the conference aims to encourage achievement in reading and writing, and to provide young authors with recognition for their efforts.

Students from Madison County selected to participate are:

Ben Seidler, Nemoak School, Eric Gunderson, Emerson School, Dan Graff and Colleen Ryan, Parkview School, and Michelle Jones and Heather Crane, Niedringhaus School, all of Granite City No. 9.

Bernice Weber, Highland, and Jeffery Tottleben, Central Grade School, Roxana.

Ceremonies to reopen museum

Quad-Cityans are being invited to attend a reopening of the museum at Fort de Chartres historic site at Prairie du Rocher, Ill., on Sunday, April 16.

The museum has been closed for remodeling and now has three times the space it previously had, according to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

The museum tells the story of the French Colonial District from Kaskaskia, Indiana, fur traders, farmers, merchants grand ladies and soldiers are all shown in the numerous exhibits. Opening ceremonies are to be held at 2 p.m. and the museum will be open until 7 p.m. There also will be a French military muster and a Couerier du Bois Rendezvous beginning at noon. The fort will open at 9 a.m.

Fort de Chartres is located on Illinois 155, four miles west of Prairie du Rocher.

Bi-State director to address mayors

The Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, April 26, at the American Legion Hall in O'Fallon. The meeting will be hosted by O'Fallon Mayor Roy Smith.

Barry Locke, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, will be the speaker.

A cocktail hour will begin at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 p.m. and the meeting at 8 p.m.

Savings bond drive to open April 18

The A. O. Smith Corp. will host a kick-off breakfast Tuesday, April 18, for the promotion of U.S. savings bonds, Madison County Bond Chairman Henry Karandjeff announced Friday.

Industrialists and bankers throughout Madison County are expected to attend the meeting, which will outline important points of the 1978 U.S. savings bonds drive.

Similar meetings are being held nationwide, Karandjeff noted, spearheaded by this year's national chairman, Charles J. Pilliod Jr., chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

"We expect to top $8 million in bond sales in Madison County this year," Karandjeff said.

"U.S. savings bonds are a sound investment by every yardstick. The purchaser is putting his money to work while at the same time investing in his country's future. Bonds can be sold on that basis alone," he continued.

Karandjeff has served continuously as Madison County savings bonds chairman since 1941, making him one of the longest serving volunteers in the United States. He has received numerous awards for his service, including the Twin Seal Plaque, the Treasury Department's highest award for savings bonds volunteers.

Bubblemasters return from diving in Keys

Several members of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club have returned from their traditional early spring diving vacation of the Florida Keys and in the coastal waters in other areas of Florida.

Spending 17 days on the Keys were Dee and Mary Adams, Ed and Barb Duffin and sons, David and Darren, and Don and Lucille Broyles.

Also in the Keys for a week were Granite City divers, Larry Earney, Randy Viessman and Joe Henry. The trio was engaged in underwater photography work and spearfishing off the Big Pine and Lou Keys.

Enroute to southern Florida, the group visited several points of interest, such as the Cyclocar in Atlanta, Ga., and Disney World, near Orlando.

Diving was very pleasant off Sunshine and Somboro Keys in the Gulf of Mexico, according to Dee Adams. Bubblemasters president. Lobsters and different species of fish, including two sharks, were caught, one of the latter by spearing, Adams said.

At Key Largo, the Bubblemasters boarded the Captain Crunch, a 65-foot diving boat owned and operated by Captain Joe Clark, a former Bubblemaster member.

Diving in the Atlantic Ocean took the group off John Pennkamp Coral Reef and Underwater State Park and French Molasses Key.

The divers were joined by Elizabeth Szymek of Granite City for part of the holiday and celebrated the young woman's birthday with a lobster dinner and decorated cake.

'Destry Rides Again' is Assumption theater play

The Assumption Theater Department will present the Western, "Destry Rides Again", as its spring production on April 22, 28 and 29.

Kevin Krazer is directing the musical comedy which is based on a novel by Max Brand. AHS students Lisa Sylvester and Jackie Tharp are in charge of choreography.

The play, with lyrics and music by Harold Rome, was made into a movie several times.

The setting for the play is the cattle town of Bottleneck at the turn of the century. Senior Steve Desnoy is in the title role. Thomas Jefferson Destry Jr., son of a famous lawman and gunfighter.

When the gambler, Kent (Reginald Hudlin), and his gang hold the town in his grip, Sheriff Wash (Jim Halwachs) calls upon Destry to set things right.

Disenchantment settles upon everyone when the meek and shy young man who hates to use a gun arrives. In his own way, however, Destry ensures that justice is done so that law and order can finally prevail in Bottleneck.

Other principal roles are those of Frenchy, played by Elaine Laws, and Gyp Watson, Bill Brennan.

Musical numbers include "I Know Your Kind," "Fair Warning," "I Say Hello," and "Anyone Would Love You," a duet in which Frenchy and Destry reveal a growing interest in each other. "Once Knew a Fella" is Destry's own confession of what it is like for a lonely man to experience love.

On Saturday, April 22, the Assumption gym will be transformed into a dinner-theater for the annual first-nighter. Tickets for this performance, which includes dinner, the play, and music for dancing afterwards, are $12.50 per person. Reservations are required and may be obtained by calling Assumption at 397-2796.

Other performances will be on Friday, April 28, and Saturday, April 29, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1.50 for students at the door. All reserve seats are $3 and may be obtained by calling 398-9942.

Leasing important to young farmers

By LARRY LAPPIN
Agricultural Adviser

Three-fourths of all farmers in Illinois rent at least part of the land they farm.

And 55 percent of the agricultural land they farm is rented, says Frank Reiss, University of Illinois Extension land economist.

This rate of tenancy is lower in Southern Illinois, where land prices are lower. It is higher in areas where land prices are higher.

In Central Illinois, 65 to 70 percent of the land is rented by the farm operator.

The price of land simply puts owning land out of the reach of young farm operators.

If young farmers have an inventory of farm machinery and equipment of $100,000 or more, which is not unreasonable for a tractor and a combine, they have all they can handle with their limited equity to finance the operating capital, says Reiss.

Most young farmers could not meet the cash flow to pay for land even if they could borrow the money. Therefore, their only alternative is to rent land.

But Reiss says he sees no problem in renting land as long as leases are fair. Fair, so that the return to what each party contributes to the business is adequately rewarded and the business can continue.

The rental base as developed in Illinois can be fair and can provide the incentive for young farmers to invest and improve land, which will combine to make Illinois agriculture the highest productive community in the world.

Spring applications of nitrogen fertilizer on wheat should be made just before the wheat turns green.

Earlier topdressing should be avoided on frozen, sloped fields. The fertilizer may be lost through runoff during heavy rain.

Wheat needs nitrogen early in the growing season. The soil usually has not warmed enough for soil microbes to release much nitrogen from decaying plant residues and soil organic matter.

The nitrogen rate will vary depending on soil type, variety, and to some extent, past and future cropping practices. The following recommendations are for stiff-strawed varieties in fields with no alfalfa or clover seedings.

—Soils low in capacity to supply nitrogen; inherently low in organic matter (light colored); no no-till, alfalfa, or clover in the preceding years—70 to 90 pounds of N per acre.

—Soils medium in capacity to supply nitrogen; moderately dark-colored soils—50 to 70 pounds of N per acre.

—Soils high in capacity to supply nitrogen; all deep dark-colored soils; light-colored soils that regularly have legume or manure—40 to 50 pounds of N per acre.

These recommendations are for the total fall and spring nitrogen application. The amount of N applied last fall should be subtracted from the amount put on this spring.

Stiff-strawed varieties planted as a companion crop for legume or legume-grass seedings should be fertilized with 20 to 30 pounds less N. This will prevent unusually heavy top growth which competes unfavorably with young forage seedlings.

All dry nitrogen fertilizers and liquid nitrogen solutions not containing free ammonia are acceptable for topdressing wheat. However, topdressing need to be taken when using urea or materials containing urea.

If temperatures are greater than 50 degrees F. and soil is dry or drying rapidly, there is a potential for significant nitrogen loss from urea. It is best to apply it when temperatures are colder than 50 degrees F. Precipitation can then move urea into the soil and eliminate potential loss.

Coming here in 1971, he was given the task of helping Illinois plan, qualify, acquire land and construct an 18,650-acre airport at Columbia-Waterloo to serve the metropolitan area.

Although Missourians initially voiced strong support for the proposed intercontinental airport, more and more began to view it as a threat to the future of Lambert Airport in north St. Louis County.

Airlines said they would utilize only one of the two sites, but Lambert was regarded as likely to remain busy as a general aviation airport even after the ten-year construction project was completed.

U.S. Transportation Secretary Brock Adams last year reversed his predecessor's approval of the Columbia-Waterloo project and is

ARVEN H. SAUNDERS

State's top aviation official to talk here

Arven H. Saunders, director of the Illinois Division of Aeronautics, will address a joint meeting of the Granite City and Madison-Waterloo Rotary clubs at noon Tuesday in the YMCA auditorium.

His topic will be the aviation challenges facing this region and Illinois.

He is the father of four children, is continuing to reside in Edwardsville. He is dividing his time between Springfield and his duties as executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, based at the SIUE campus.

Blocking any federal funds for it.

In commenting on the appointment of Saunders by Governor James R. Thompson to also serve as state aeronautics director, St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority Chairman William S. Badgley of Belleville said:

"The proposed new, low rates from Chicago (Midway) to Lambert and regulatory reform now before Congress will inevitably result in a tremendous increase in air traffic—this will accelerate the obsolescence of Lambert."

"There will be an acute need for the kind of planning that will keep Lambert's limitations from holding back aviation growth in Illinois, as well as Missouri, while at the same time pressing for an end to the arbitrary federal delay in funding Columbia-Waterloo."

"As director of aeronautics, Mr. Saunders will be able to play an important role in these projects."

From 1965 to 1971, Saunders was director of the Bureau of National Capital Airports. He was responsible for the direction, coordination and planning of all operations and facilities at the Dulles International and Washington National airports.

He earlier held posts as airport director at the Dulles, Greater Cincinnati and Raleigh-Durham airports. His career in aviation began with American Airlines, and he has served as that airline's Miami sales manager.

FOOD STOLEN
One dozen eggs, one pound of bacon, and an unknown amount of frozen meat and white and blue striped pillow cases were discovered missing from the home of Peggy Miles, 2801 Buxton Ave., at 4 a.m. Friday as she and her husband returned home from a vacation.

'GRAND IMPERIAL CIRQUE DE PARIS' one of the musical numbers to be presented in "Carnival" Thursday and Friday in the Granite City High School South auditorium, with curtain time at 8 p.m. From left

School boards will hear panel sessions

Area school board members and superintendents will gather at Marissa Junior-Senior High School on Wednesday to take part in a semi-annual dinner meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards. The evening meeting consists of a dinner, four concurrent panel presentations, and a secretarial workshop.

The four panel topics are competency testing, personnel policies, unemployment compensation, and state aid formula reform. Also included on the program will be a report on statewide issues confronting education by Richard D. Wisner, IASB director of field services.

The IASB is a voluntary service organization of about 1,000 school boards in Illinois.

Scuba divers meet Tuesday

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club starts its spring-summer business schedule this week, meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

Tuesday night meetings at the YMCA will continue through September when the club will resume Sunday sessions at the Granite City Civil Defense Building. Dee Adams, club president, advised.

Anyone interested in skin or scuba diving is invited to attend the meetings, which will take place on the second Tuesday evening of each month, Adams said.

Primary business to be discussed tomorrow night, includes plans to participate in the first weekend dive of the season, scheduled May 6 and 7 at Highway 13 Boat Dock, Table Rock Lake, Mo.

The spring dive is sponsored by the Midwest Diving Council (MDC), which held its semi-annual conference during the weekend at the Stadium Motel in Kansas City.

Larry Earney, a Bubblemasters officer and an MDC director, and Glen Gates, official club delegate, attended the Kansas City conference, Adams said.

Plans also will be initiated Tuesday night for the Granite City Divers' annual Memorial Day weekend dive at Bull Shoals Lake, Mo. The local club hosts this event for other diving groups, Adams reported.

Woman struck in incident here

A woman now living in Venice, whose estranged husband resides in Granite City, reported being threatened by him Thursday evening while she and a girl friend were walking on 20th Street, near the railroad crossing.

The woman said a car pulled up and her husband alighted, ran across the road and grabbed her by the arm, stating "I'm going to kill you..."

As she attempted to free herself, the man struck her across the face, she said. Both women ran to the Granite City police station and reported the incident. She was advised to contact assistant state's attorney to make a formal complaint.

Modern Woodmen camp elects

Bob Budnicki was re-elected consul of the Modern Woodmen of America, Camp 2791, at its meeting last week in the Barrel Restaurant.

Other officers are Ruby Gibson, adviser, and Donna Johnson, recording secretary. Trustees elected were Tom Marsh, Paul Marsh and Ron Gibson.

Prizes were awarded to Debbie Hodges and Billy Gibson.

The group is considering a community benefit activity in the near future.

Leslie Cann, 76, dies

Leslie Hurd Cann, 76, of 2542 Sheridan Ave., died at 11:45 a.m. Friday in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been a patient for the past week. He had been ill one week.

He was the owner and operator of Cann's Confectionery. He retired after 35 years at General Steel Industries where he was a foreman.

Mr. Cann was a member of the Senior Citizen Golf League.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Esther Cann; two sons, Carl Cann of South Carolina and Kenneth Cann of Madison; two daughters, Miss Lelia Cann of St. Ann, Mo., and Mrs. James (Edith) Gleason of Rhode Island; four sisters, Mrs. Martha Davies of Troy, Mich., Mrs. Josiah (Della) Lane of Granite City, Mrs. James (Jessie) Menenges of Hazelwood, Mo., and Mrs. Lucille Kraml of Bridgeport, Mo., two brothers, Arthur Cann of Chicago and Lloyd Cann of Chicago; three grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Ballroom dance class at YMCA

A ballroom dancing class will start tonight at the Tri-City Area YMCA, with the sessions being held from 7 to 9 in the Y auditorium.

The dances to be instructed by Beverly Carter are the Fox Trot, Cha Cha, polka, Imperial Swing and the waltz.

Cost for the course will be $10 for Y members and $15 for non-members.

The class size will be limited to those wishing to participate will be taken on a first come, first serve basis, Donald R. Rains, program director, advised. Persons wishing to register in advance may call the Y at 878-7200.

Head-start registration scheduled at Madison

Head-Start and Kindergarten registration in Madison will be held at Blair School Wednesday and Thursday, April 19 and April 20, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., and at Harris School Wednesday and Thursday, April 26 and 27, from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m.

To register for either kindergarten or head-start the child must be five (5) years old on or before Dec. 31, 1978.

The parent must present a birth certificate or some legal proof of date of birth, pay $1 registration fee, and provide a record of the child's immunizations.

The parents will be given health cards so that the physical and dental examinations and immunizations can be completed before the start of school.

In compliance with the school code of Illinois 27-8, no child will be permitted to enter kindergarten until proof of

Feasibility study could be worthwhile airport investment

Airport services continue in the news, including local efforts to establish a general aviation airport at the restricted-use Lakeside Airport site east of Illinois Route 111.

But its access to highway connections is so superior to the access at those locations that it could become a major transportation and economic asset for the Quad-Cities in this metropolitan area.

Granite City officials could find it an exceptionally worthy investment at a bargain price. Only $3,000 "seed money" is needed to conduct a feasibility study—because much data already is available from the Columbia-Waterloo intercontinental airport application.

Meanwhile, Henry J. Elmendorf, chairman of the Missouri-St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority formed to thwart Columbia-Waterloo rather than to operate airport itself, is out of line in using press releases in defense of Illinois taxpayers, whom he claims are being insulted by pending legislation in this state.

The land acquisition plan he refers to is being set at well below the figure he quotes, but in any case Illinoisans are capable of defending themselves directly in their relations with their own legislators.

If he wants to persist in discussing "wanton misuse of public money," perhaps a few Missouri examples can be cited for his benefit.

Most school candidates re-elected: Harris college trustee

Quad-Citizens in general endorsed the status quo in Saturday's school balloting, re-electing Thornton M. Stalling, Ed Worthen in heavy Granite City voting, Richard Zeisset in the Madison school district, unopposed John Boushara, Gerald Cicio and George Wade in Venice and incumbents John Becker of Sparks and Ed O'Malley of Belleville to the board of Belleville Area College District 522.

Providing the first direct local representation on the BAC Board of Trustees, Robert A. Harris was elected for a three-year term. Mearl Justus of Chokini ran last year for the four candidates for three positions on the college board.

In the Madison school election, Zeisset and Mrs. Billie Bosworth won three-year terms and unopposed Paul Borgeal carried a one-year term.

While it is unfortunate that the services of Elvers Johnson will be lost to the Madison board, Mrs. Bosworth has indicated a willingness to speak out independently and to spark needed discussion of a variety of school topics.

They just don't write many ballads like that anymore . . .

Ray Noble is best remembered by Quad-Citizens as an Englishman who got a lot of laughs on the old Edgar Bergen network radio show. But the orchestra leader also composed some of the most sentimental and tuneful ballads of all time, including "The Very Thought of You," "Love Is the Sweetest Thing," "The Touch of Your Lips," "Goodnight Sweetheart" and "I Hadn't Anyone Till You."

A cancer victim at the age of 71 last week in London, he will be long remembered. They just don't write many songs like that anymore.

Big savings if a school is closed

To the Editor:

As an interested parent and taxpayer of the Granite City School District, I read with great interest and concern the article concerning the meeting on the proposed closing of Stallings School.

The article stated that "closing the school will save the school district about $250,000 each year." This figure does not include the immediate repair costs of $30,000, which are necessary to keep the school open.

I feel that interested parents and voting taxpayers should be aware of some possible alternatives that might be available to the district, and the higher to decrease any more deficit spending.

These alternatives could affect the children in all schools throughout the district.

One alternative might be to increase class size to a number near 40. Another possible alternative could be to close all of the learning centers, which have proven to be of value to the children of the district.

Special programs such as music and physical education could be reduced or eliminated completely. These "solutions" would result in the higher of our present Granite City program for all children.

The closing of Stallings School would not in any way hinder the high caliber of our city's program, but would merely necessitate moving children from one good school to another school of the same high quality.

It would save as well as the above mentioned $250,000 per year.

GRANITE CITY MOTHER

Boy rescued/ adult not prosecuted

To the Editor:

On Feb. 7, an 11-year-old boy from a Granite City grade school threw a snowball, hitting a house — not breaking anything — or a family couple living across from the school.

The man dragged the boy inside the house, where his wife slapped him around and pulled his hair.

Other students alerted a teacher, who went into the house and rescued the boy.

The police were notified by the school and the mother turned the case over to an assistant state's attorney to stop this sort of thing.

If he refused the case because the couple were friends of his, after the mother went back to the city Hall, it was turned over to a city attorney who, to date, has done nothing.

If this were reversed, and it was the boy who had done this to an adult, he would have been turned over to juvenile authorities long before this. Where is the justice?

I suppose it is felt that if you wait long enough, it will all go away.

Youngsters from the same school say that this has happened several times. Why are people allowed to get away with this sort of thing?

I am not the parent of this child, but a person concerned about our children.

Is this how our young people learn? Adults are the teachers of our children. What will they learn from this?

This child is not a problem child and has not been in trouble.

News notes

Unemployment in the U.S. rose in March from 6.1 to 6.2 percent, following monthly decreases since August.

In 1976, there was a 4.4 decrease, from 7.1 to 6.7 percent.

Gov. James R. Thompson has announced rate hikes of up to 13 percent for foster parents of children who are wards of the state. The last increase was in 1974.

The Illinois Department of Revenue is continuing to offer state income tax help and information at a toll-free number, 1-800-252-6972.

Asserting there have been no criminal charges against him, Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott says the federal government and others are planning arrests in Chicago newspapers to damage his reelection campaign.

Radiation from a Chinese nuclear test March 14 has been found in milk from many states.

including samples taken in the St. Louis area, but the amount is too small to cause any danger to health, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency says.

President Jimmy Carter on Thursday signed into law a bill changing the mandatory retirement age for most private employees from 65 to 70.

Potential disaster aid for the central Illinois ice storm is becoming involved in the state election campaign. Both Gov. Thompson (R) and nominee Bakalis (D) have asked President Carter to reconsider an initial denial of funds.

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and 42 other phone firms have been authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission to disconnect service to companies that refuse to pay their bills to make "junk" sales calls.

The Illinois Senate voted

Thursday to have voters decide whether to replace State School Supt. Joseph M. Cronin with an elected superintendent.

The Madison County sheriff's office plans to replace State School Supt. Joseph M. Cronin with an elected superintendent.

Defense attorneys for Raymond Milenz and Dennis Kirksey, held on murder charges in the Madison County jail, filed last week for a change of venue on their trial.

A dairy-type retail establishment whose employee was robbed April 5 was incorrectly described in Thursday's issue. It is located on Namekoi Road.

The Tri-City Regional Port District does not own a crane referred to in a lawsuit filed by the widow of an employee, but while unloading a barge Sept. 30, port officials said Friday.

Fine Arts, Gym-Jam show is April 30

The elementary physical education department will join the High School band under the direction of Terry Waffler.

Each year the North High School band alternates with the South band to entertain at this function.

April 30, between 12:30 and 4 p.m.

The Gym-Jam is made up of approximately 300 elementary students from 12 schools who will demonstrate skills learned in their regular classes. These skills will be shown in tumbling demonstrations, parachute, dance, and physical fitness routines. Gym-Jam will perform from 1 to 2 p.m.

Coordinator of this year's Gym-Jam part of the Fine Arts Show is Mrs. Judy Collins.

The annual Acre of Fine Arts will be displayed in the gym at the same time. Thousands of pieces of art will be on exhibit from the elementary, junior, and high schools as in the past 16 years.

The North High school vocal music will furnish entertainment on the front steps of the gym under the direction of Mrs. Gail Mueller and will be followed by music by the South High School band under the direction of Terry Waffler.

Curb industrial taxes—Bakalis

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael J. Bakalis last week unveiled a six-point program designed to "create thousands of new jobs for Illinois and to revitalize the state's stagnating economy."

Bakalis said Illinois has lost nearly 200,000 industrial jobs during the past nine years, or about 13 percent of the state's total.

He proposed to attack unemployment by encouraging private investment in business and industry through a variety of legislative initiatives.

The six major proposals in Bakalis' jobs program are:

1. Broaden the scope of the Industrial Development Authority.
2. Give the state's IDA an additional $100 million in bonding authority, with the bonds to be sold over a period of years as the need for additional seed money arises.
3. The funds would be used to make start-up loans to new businesses unable to secure conventional financing, or for construction for lease.
4. He would remove present restrictions on areas covered by the agency as well as one the equipment purchases permitted under current guidelines. In effect, the plan would make the credit of the state available to buttress investment in job-creating projects that "might not otherwise get off the ground."
5. Affected corporations and the state would share in lower interest rates in order to provide reserves against possible losses and to cover administrative expenses.
6. Revise standards for Unemployment and Workman's

Compensation.

Bakalis believes that standards for both these programs are "woefully inadequate and must be tightened to eliminate abuses that are not only indirectly expensive, but which defeat the programs' purposes."

He says the purpose of unemployment compensation is neither clearly defined nor understood, some people viewing it as a temporary assistance program for the unemployed and others as a permanent, income-maintenance program.

He cited as problems "insolvency stemming from higher unemployment resulting from the recession, failure to provide proper counseling and assistance to those seeking work, and fraud and abuse characteristic of the system."

He urged review of the program by the General Assembly for tightening of eligibility standards, greater control over administration of the program, clearer definition of terms and provisions, and elimination of abuses.

Bakalis said Workman's Compensation suffers from "equally serious problems, especially the inordinate expense."

"Illinois now pays the highest maximum benefits of any of the 33 major industrial states. Maximum weekly benefits increased 276 percent from January 1975 to June 1977, giving Illinois the highest cost for this type of program in the nation."

"I proposed that the state legislature eliminate excessive litigation and attorney's fees that increase the cost and difficulty to the injured worker; improve availability of information on injuries, claims and awards; beef up safety standards for workers at industries; eliminate excessive payments for permanent partial disability; and improve regulation of insurance rates for the program."

3. Provide selective tax abatement and exemption for industry.

Bakalis proposes a constitutional amendment to permit the state's 102 counties to grant property tax abatement or exemptions to those businesses not likely to expand their operations or locate in Illinois without the incentive. Purpose would be to create jobs through stimulation of investment and development.

Bakalis said his plan could give Illinois counties the "flexibility to compete with Ohio and other states in attracting such industrial projects as the Ford Motor Company's transmission plant with its 3,500 jobs—lost to Ohio due to the rigidity of our present system."

4. Eliminate the sales tax on machinery.

He proposes a four-year, phased elimination of all sales tax on machinery used for replacement, expansion or new facilities in all manufacturing and processing industries beginning in the July 1978-June 1979 year.

The exemption would initially be granted to manufacturing machinery during the first two years, and extended to machinery in other industries during the third and fourth years of the program.

Total cost would be $24 million per year, but this amount would be made up by increased revenues stemming from job creation and industrial development resulting from the incentive," he asserts.

5. Phase out the personal property tax on corporations.

"As the incentive provided by elimination of the sales tax on machinery causes revenues to increase as a result of new development and jobs, I would begin to phase out the corporate personal property tax by gradually eliminating that portion of it applying to equipment used in industrial operations. At the end of the phase-out period—possibly as long as 10 years—steps would be taken to eliminate all categories of personal property from taxation."

Bakalis proposes a constitutional amendment for the Nov. 7 ballot, eliminating the requirement for replacement of the corporate personal property tax, and granting an extension on abolition to put his plan into effect.

6. Give tax incentives to business for socially-desirable goals.

He would use the state income tax to provide incentives for business and industry to achieve socially and economically desirable goals.

Bakalis would grant a tax credit on a certain percentage of the salaries of employees affected by the following: companies which create jobs that did not previously exist and which hire unemployed workers to fill those jobs; firms that hire minority group workers or unskilled laborers.

He also would give tax credits to firms that institute anti-pollution or energy conservation measures.

The Democratic nominee expressed confidence that his six-point plan, taken as a whole, could change Illinois' image to a pro-business state.

Mrs. Dorothy Burton new cashier at Colonial Bank

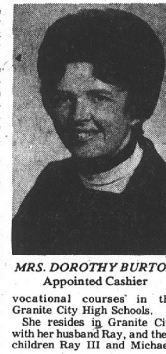

The board of directors of the Colonial Bank of Granite City has announced the appointment of Dorothy J. Burton as cashier of the bank.

Mrs. Burton joined the Colonial Bank at the time of its inception in June 1976, with 18 years prior experience in banking with Union Bank in East St. Louis and Belleville National Savings Bank in Belleville.

Beginning as customer service representative, she was appointed to the position of assistant cashier in February 1977.

After graduating from East St. Louis High School, she attended various classes at the American Institute of Banking in St. Louis.

Time to inspect area peach trees

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

Many peach trees and other stone fruit trees in Southwestern Illinois have peach borer infestations.

This is sometimes visible by the mass of gum and frass (sawdust) at the base of the trunk. At other times, one must dig down 4-5 inches below the soil line to find them.

It is advisable to check all stone fruit trees now for borers.

With a trowel or spade, clean the soil away from the trunk to a depth of four inches. If no gum or frass is visible, the tree is okay.

But if gum and frass are found, use a thin knife blade or wire to clean the wound and eradicate the borer.

There may be several borers in one tree, so dig out all tunnels. Several borers per tree can girdle it and cause death.

Any borer that escapes your inspection will feed for another 30-40 days and will cause more damage.

Some borer activity has been seen behind plastic tree guards and other trunk wrappings. Be sure to pull these away and check for borers also.

When inspection and — or eradication is finished, replace the soil to its original level. Then resolve to apply preventative sprays of carbaryl (sevin) to the trunk on June 15, July 15 and Aug. 15, 1978.

Warm temperatures in early April mean that strawberry mulch should be removed PDQ (pretty darn quick).

The mulch should be pulled back before the new growth turns yellow or white.

Be sure to remove all of the mulch. Leave some of it over the plants for ground cover. The plants will grow through a light layer.

The rest of the mulch should be raked into the walkways

State preparing clean water plan

Approximately 75 percent of Illinois communities with over 200 residents need to upgrade existing sewage treatment facilities or repair malfunctioning septic systems, Illinois Environmental Protection Agency records show.

Over the past year, the IEPA has been studying the sewage treatment needs of 1,000 Illinois communities. Systems were examined to determine their abilities to meet water quality goals and local needs for the next 20 years.

Most of the communities with problems need to upgrade existing sewage systems. In other communities, water pollution problems may be occurring from poorly operating septic systems.

Often, discharges from septic tanks, instead of filtering through soils for purification, enter field drainage tiles and pollute surface waters where the tiles empty into rivers and streams, a spokesman said today.

Communities with problems are being encouraged to apply for a grant to upgrade systems, according to Bob Wiatrolk, resources planner for IEPA. Construction grants provide 75 percent of cost, with 25 percent supplied by local funds.

The 1977 Clean Water Act has extended the eligibility for this grant program — traditionally used to upgrade centralized sewage systems — to septic systems, provided that a local management authority is identified to insure maintenance.

Individual communities have been notified of study results. Bob Wiatrolk can be reached at: IEPA, Water Division, 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield, Ill. 62706 (217-782-3382).

Analysis of sewage treatment needs for Illinois communities will be part of the state clean water plan that is being prepared.

Hospital license board appointees

Governor James R. Thompson last week appointed eight persons to the Hospital Licensing Board.

Sister Ann Bailey, O.S.F., Decatur; Theodor L. Jacobson, Park Ridge; Board Chairman Elmer E. Abrahamson Sr., Chicago; M. Frances Nash Terrell, East St. Louis; William M. Leon, M.D., Lincolnwood; Robert H. Reeder, M.D., Geneva; June Werner, R.N., Evanston; and Marshall Wittzell, Wilmette.

Members of the Hospital Licensing Board are responsible for reviewing applications for licenses to construct new, or enlarge existing, hospitals. They act in an advisory capacity to the Illinois Department of Public Health, which is the licensing agency. Board members serve without pay, and do not require Senate confirmation.

State's junior high student councils to convene in GC

Grigsby Junior High School will be hosting the 1978 state convention of the Illinois Association of Junior High Student Councils on May 5 and 6.

This annual convention is usually held in the Chicago area. The last time it was held "down South" was in 1970, when it was hosted by the Coolidge Junior High Student Council. Miss Dorothy Hinson coordinated the planning as the Coolidge adviser.

About 800 students and their advisors will assemble here at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 5.

After caucuses of the various sections that evening, election of student representatives to the state board of directors of the group will be held on Saturday, May 6.

While elections are the main purpose of the convention, there will be discussion groups focusing on problems that face students and their schools. What the student council can do to help alleviate these problems will be a major topic.

Along with the work, students will get a chance to relax with a dance, contests, and other forms of entertainment.

While students will be staying at area motels, there will be a large number to be housed in private homes.

"Additional space is urgently needed, so if you would be willing to furnish housing for these students, please contact me — James Swannick — at Grigsby Junior High, 931-5544," the adviser commented.

Miss Nancy Siebert is the president of the Grigsby student council, with Swannick as the faculty adviser to the group.

Championship Rodeo trip April 23

The first annual Championship Rodeo, featuring top riders and entertainers Pat Boone and daughter, Debby, a Grammy Award winner, is planned this month at the St. Louis Checkerdomo (Arena) and the Granite City Park District has arranged a trip for a performance, it was announced today.

The rodeo excursion will take place Sunday, April 23, for the 2:30 p.m. performance, Harold Brown, park superintendent, said.

Only 45 tickets will be available and reservations can be made in person at the Wilson Park office, beginning Thursday, on a first come, first serve basis.

Tickets will cost $4 each, regardless of age, plus round trip bus fare of $2.50 per person. Information concerning departure time will be given when tickets are obtained, or by calling 877-3059. The Championship Rodeo is sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, Inc. Most of the top national rodeo circuit riders will compete.

Events will include calf roping, barrel racing, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, trick riding and bull riding, along with the "death-defying" antics of the rodeo clowns.

Would exempt farm machines

A bill to exempt farm machinery from the Illinois Retailers Occupation Tax was introduced in the Illinois Senate on Thursday by Senator Harber Hall, Bloomington.

Hall said, "There has been an effort to remove the sales tax on machinery used in manufacturing in Illinois and Governor Thompson has supported that effort. A special bill to treat agriculture the same as is proposed for manufacturing is necessary, because a clear definition of production agriculture must be established."

FESTIVAL CONTRACT SIGNED. Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw (seated, left), president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and members of the Naderlander organization, one of the largest promoters of entertainment in the United States, sign a lease document which provides that the Naderlanders will conduct a summer 1978 Mississippi River Festival program on the SIUE campus. The agreement also provides for an additional 10 years of MRF management by the Naderlanders, with plans for major improvements at the Festival site. Signing the document for the Naderlanders is Joseph Nederlander. Standing are Robert Naderlander (left) and Wayne Naderlander.

River Fest firm has broad experience

The Naderlander organization, this year's Mississippi River Festival promoter, is one of the largest promoters of entertainment in the United States.

It has leased the MRF facilities on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and will conduct the 1978 summer River Fest program, according to an announcement Thursday by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, university president.

Dr. Shaw said the university has agreed, with no advance commitment of university funds, to work with the Naderlander organization for an additional 10-year period in order to plan and implement MRF summer programs subsequent to 1978, and develop "as expeditiously as possible" plans for major improvement at the Festival site.

The Naderlander family has been prominent for three generations in the management and operation of theaters and productions of entertainment.

The organization owns and operates 18 entertainment facilities in the U.S., including the Alvin, Brooks Atkinson, Mark Hellinger, Palace and Uris Theaters in New York; the Arle Crown and Studebaker Theaters in Chicago; the Merrilweather Post Pavilion in Columbia, Md.; the Fisher and Pine Knob Music Theaters in Detroit; the new Greek and Pantages Theaters in Los Angeles; the Palace West Theater in Phoenix; the Fox Theater in San Diego; and the Duran Theater in San Francisco.

Four members of the Naderlander family — Harry, Joseph, Robert and Wayne Naderlander — were present for the contract negotiations at the university Thursday morning, in a prepared statement, they said.

"It is our sole endeavor in our association with the Mississippi River Festival that we will be a credit to the entire community and, hopefully, further enrich the cultural life of the university."

Naderlander will pay for any services provided by the university, and SIUE will receive a percentage of gross receipts from the MRF, with the understanding that any income to the University beyond its costs will go back into the MRF activity.

Dr. Shaw said the university has been assured that programming will be guided by such factors as "artistic diversity, with consideration for quality and economic factors, including such types as rock, country, jazz, folk, variety and family shows."

Other factors will be "primary emphasis on the 15-30 age group, the 'track records' of specific performers and performing groups, and the appropriateness of these records to a university setting."

Nederlander has agreed to provide employment for SIUE students, and students will participate in the university's programming role, Dr. Shaw said.

He added that Naderlander's employment practices will be consistent with the university's employment practices.

Alcohol will be prohibited on the MRF site, and crowd sizes will be controlled in accordance with facility and traffic limitations.

A Naderlander representative said it is too early to indicate specific programming for the 1978 season, but approximately 40 events will be planned, beginning in June.

A resident manager will be assigned by Naderlander to the MRF project immediately and will maintain an office at the River Festival site approximately nine months of the year.

The president said the contract, with Naderlander provides that the promoter will have a "turn-key" job, handling all arrangements for the 1978 season with no involvement of university funds, but the positive image of the university will be preserved throughout all aspects of implementation.

Any financial arrangements between the university and the promoter will be in accordance with university policies and practices, Dr. Shaw added.

The president also emphasized that any major site improvements will be developed subject to SIUE Board of Trustees approval.

The president pointed out that Naderlander already is involved with other outdoor summer festivals, and the organization's most recent undertaking is the leasing of the New York State Theater in Lincoln Center for summer seasons beginning in July this year.

Ladder can be hazard

With spring here and summer coming, thoughts turn to cleaning, repair and installation projects, many of which require or involve the use of a ladder.

Every year, 30,000 to 40,000 Americans are injured by falling from ladders. A ladder can be a convenience and a help, or a tool for a fall and disaster.

Advice from safety engineers at Underwriters Laboratories (UL) is to use a ladder that is long enough for the purpose.

Many ladder-related accidents are the result of using a ladder that is too short. This results in the user standing in a position where he has limited stability.

The worker should practice the "four-in-one" rule: the base of the ladder should be placed one foot from the wall for every four feet of ladder height.

In other words, a sixteen-foot ladder with its top placed against a vertical wall should be positioned so that the base is four feet from the wall.

Two basic steps should be taken before you climb a ladder.

1. Make sure that the ladder is placed on a firm, level surface.

2. Inspect the ladder for structural damage or deterioration.

When using a stepladder, it is essential that the spreader be locked before you climb.

Otherwise, your ladder could fold with you on it.

If you are using any type of metal ladder, remember to keep it away from overhead power lines and other electrical installations.

A ladder marked "caution against this" should not be used.

Do not overextend your reach, once you're on the ladder.

Take the time to move the ladder close to the work.

The extra time taken could save pain and broken bones, lost time and income, and hospital bills.

Roses in bad shape

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Area Adviser in Horticulture
Hybrid roses are still severely damaged due to a sharp freeze in late November.

Most rose canes show black streaks down to a few inches in late November.

Where the black streaks extend three inches of green cane shows above the ground, those plants are sure to recover.

Control of garden slugs is easy with prepared baits.

Both of these products are a dry bait that you scatter among perennials and new transplants.

It may be more convenient to place spoon-sized piles of the bait near favorite hideouts of slugs, such as stones, dense ground covers or rotting leaves.

One or two applications will do the job.

Garden slugs are simply snails without shells. During cool weather, they emerge from damp areas at night to feed on leaves of ground cover plants and flowering perennials.

It won't be necessary to paint the cut stubs. You should plan to fertilize your roses, just as you do every spring. If some plants are nearly dead, it may be more productive to replace with one of the new hybrids than have a struggling plant that won't bloom well next summer.

Garden slugs are simply snails without shells. During cool weather, they emerge from damp areas at night to feed on leaves of ground cover plants and flowering perennials.

Ragged holes in leaves of low-growing plants and glistening slime trails on sidewalks and lawns are sure signs they've paid you a visit.

You often can find the slugs hidden in crevices or among leaves near affected plants.

Teachers to attend state meet

About 40 members of the three Delta Kappa Gamma chapters in Madison County are planning to attend the 43rd state convention of the organization. This state meeting of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, an organization whose members are chosen from all levels of teaching, will be held April 14-16 at the Continental Regency in Peoria.

Alpha Eta Chapter is responsible for the Sunday morning breakfast program, "A Tribute to the Founders." Miss Mary Friday of Granite City, has prepared a poetic tribute which will be narrated by Miss Thelma Benson of Wood River and Miss Leigh Heller of Granite City. Mrs. Ha Lowery of East Alton and Miss Jennie Raffaele of Edwardsville, will provide the music for the program.

Mrs. Helen Thatcher of Beta Eta Chapter will serve as one of the leaders of the Ten Achievement Groups. Her session is entitled "Teachers' Centers: What For?" Mrs. Josephine O'Neil, Beta Eta state first vice-president, will also be participating.

Mrs. Dorothy Roe, Highland Gamma-Epsilon president; Mrs. Virginia Oram, Granite City, Beta Eta president; and Mrs. Martha Woomaw, Edwardsville, Alpha Eta president, will all participate in the President's Processional on Saturday evening.

The keynote speaker, Mrs. Nadine M. Ewing of Joliet, a past president of the state and now international president, will speak on "Women in Action" Friday evening. The state president, Dr. Lucille Klausner of Bloomington, has chosen "Achievement" as the convention theme.

Two other outstanding speakers will address the general sessions. Miss Bernice Conolly of Portland, Ore., will speak at the President's dinner on "Seeking a Creative." Mrs. Richard (Giddy) Dryer of Hinsdale, currently serving her fifth term in the Illinois General Assembly, will speak at the Founders' breakfast on Sunday morning.

Parkview PTA elects

Thomas Thebeau was elected president of Parkview Parent-Teacher Association at its meeting last week.

Also nominated and elected to head the PTA unit in 1978-79 were:

Mrs. Sharon Taylor, vice president; Mrs. Linda Tansley, secretary; and Miss Judy Reiselberger, treasurer.

The new officers will be installed at the PTA's May 11 meeting. Mrs. Phyllis Ryan, current president, announced.

Mrs. Terrell hosts Rotary Anns

The Granite City Rotary Anns spent a social evening last week at the home of JoAnn Terrell.

Present, Gail Miller, conducted the business portion of the meeting which included the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year.

Those selected to serve were Mary Matosian, president; Fran Slater, vice-president; Belva Edwards, secretary; Emily Thebeau, treasurer; and Gail Miller, past president.

The meeting was then turned over to Lorraine Deacour who assisted the group in crafting fabric flowers.

A dessert buffet was served by hostesses JoAnn Terrell, Anita Elftoff, Joni Karandjeff, Pamela Peters, Norma Schroeder, Evelyn Smith, Helen Steever, Mary Wilkins, and Lois Winter.

Present were Mignon Abernethy, Evelyn Ackerman, Linda Bristol, Lorraine Decatur, Marie Dotzauer, Carme Froemling, Clara Huber, Becky Jones, Kathy Lombardi, Mary Matosian, Joyce Mills, Billie Schure, Emily Thebeau, June Van Horn and special guest, Robbie Terrell.

Program chairman for the June meeting on May 2, will be June Van Horn.

The subject of a free lecture to be delivered by Edwin G. Leever at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, April 16, at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave.

The guest speaker grew up in Wood River, where he attended the Wood River public schools and also Cornell University and Washington University, graduating with a B.S. degree in Business Administration.

During his 12 year business career, he worked for eight years at McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft in St. Louis, in the space program. He left there in October 1964, to go into full time healing ministry of Christian Science in Cocoa Beach, Fla.

He is a member of the board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Mass. and will be introduced by Sidney Strotheide.

In his lecture, Leever recalls a time when, employed as a planning and scheduling engineer for the Project Mercury and Project Gemini manned space programs, he felt trapped and frustrated on the job. In reaching out to God for help, he says, he found his freedom.

Freedom, which is the keynote of this talk, is available to everyone, Leever says. He stresses, for instance, how Christ Jesus didn't promise anyone a lifetime of ennoblement regardless of how hopeless that situation looked.

St. John Guild fetes officers

St. John United Church of Christ afternoon Guild met at the church, Thursday afternoon, to honor past presidents of the organization.

President Mrs. Alice Pfroender opened the meeting and presented gifts to 14 past officers.

Jim Mary gave the invocation followed by luncheon served to 40 members and two guests, Mrs. Clara Huber and Mrs. Eunice Highlander.

The president announced planning session will be held at 8 a.m., April 20, at the church to prepare for the Fall Festival set for Oct. 22. Mrs. Georgia Engleke will serve as chairman of the event.

Mrs. Ellen Ehler spoke on the needs of the Church Women United projects, and the members agreed to contribute to blanket Sunday and to the special olympics for the handicapped.

The May Fellowship luncheon will be observed on May 5 at St. Mary's Church in Madison, it was noted.

The devotions and a Bible study was presented by Mrs. Marie Widdows.

After the meeting a display of antiques belonging to Mrs. Lorraine Bishoff and the members was exhibited with an open discussion on the origin of many of the items. Mrs. Ehler closed with the Least Coin and Lord's Prayer.

Anchorage seniors birthday meeting

Forty-seven members attended the business and birthday meeting last week of Anchorage Senior Citizens Club held in the Anchorage recreation hall.

President Mrs. Georgia Butler conducted the meeting and introduced a guest, Mrs. Carol Jean Groves.

The session opened with the recitation of the Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag.

The names of members who have recovered from an illness and those now ill were announced by Mrs. Butler.

A 12 noon pot-luck luncheon was held on April 19, it was noted.

Members sang a birthday song to those observing their anniversary date this month, followed by refreshments.

GC Unit studies
Italian Cookery

The Granite City Unit of Homemakers Extension opened its April meeting with a luncheon of Italian Cookery, which was also the lesson of the month presented by Mary Zikovich and Anne Pare.

An Italian dessert was furnished by Mary Blankenship, Martha McIlroy and Antonette Lynch.

Mrs. Helen Oberlin welcomed 22 members and a guest, Mrs. Anna Palagrove.

Mrs. Anna Michels asked Mrs. Pare and Mrs. Zikovich to give a resume of the lesson. They explained some of the dishes they prepared and each member received a lesson sheet on the culture of Italy.

A health lesson on "Good Health Habits for Longevity" was given by Mrs. Pare, who noted eating regularly is a stem of good health.

craft day will be Tuesday, May 2, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Nameoki Presbyterian Church and each one attending is to bring a sack lunch and necessary items for their craft, it was announced. Mrs. Martha Taylor and Mrs. Helen Parks will be the instructors.

The annual achievement day will be on April 26, at Highland and reservations are due at the Edwardsville office no later than April 20. It was noted that Madison County was given the first place award for the quilt as most original, created by each unit. The quilt will be awarded at the April 26th meeting, the chairman said.

Reports of activities and events at the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation annual meeting held at the University of Illinois, was reviewed by local delegates Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Kathryn Todoroff. They added there were 259 delegates from the state and 29 representatives from Madison County.

Mrs. Madge Ramsey and Mrs. Marie Johnson will attend a cake decorating session at the Edwardsville office on April 6, 13, and 20.

Birthdays celebrated for March and April were those of Wanda Schewe, Martha McIlroy, Laura Travis and Louise Johnson.

Mrs. McIlroy spoke on a pants fitting alteration lesson she had taken and will be one of the members who are interested at a session in her home, 622 Riviera Drive on Tuesday, April 11, and on April 18. Each session will be from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and those attending are to bring a lunch and pattern.

She also gave a report on the 4-H club sponsored by the unit.

The chairman appointed Mrs. Travis, Mrs. Blankenship, and Mrs. Hulda Griffith, to serve on the nominating committee.

Mrs. Travis, who represented the unit at a custom tailoring class, will teach a class in the fall, it was noted.

Mrs. Oberlin won the afternoon game prize, and a basket of fruit which served as the table centerpiece, donated by Mrs. Zikovich, Mrs. Pare, Mrs. Blankenship, Mrs. McIlroy and Mrs. Lynch.

The officers table was decorated with a basket of spring flowers. Others attending were Bernice Johnson, Olga Bergschneider, Dalphine Tulka, Wilma Owea and Mary Ueber.

June hostesses will be Florence Simpson, Helen Oberlin, and Rosalia Johnson.

Jezebel program of Love Circle

Mrs. Joanne Krause presented the story of Jezebel at the April meeting of Love Circle of Nidderhaus United Methodist Church, Thursday afternoon.

Fifteen members met in the church parlors and welcomed a guest, Betty Jane Mathae. Each one answered the roll call with their favorite Bible verse.

Mrs. Lynn North conducted the business session and several projects including new toys and equipment for the nursery, parking on the church lot, the annual fall bazaar and the increasing Sunday school attendance, were discussed.

The members were asked to make lap robes for Colonial Haven Nursing Home and have them ready by June 25, when the United Methodist Women will entertain the residents at a birthday party.

The annual spring banquet for the women of the church will be held May 11, and tickets are available from any circle member, it was noted.

Church Women United will observe May Fellowship Day on May 5, at St. Mary's Church in Madison, according to the circle leader.

Mrs. North announced the monthly business meeting of the UMW is set for April 13 and Love Circle is to serve as co-hostesses.

Those attending were Joni Karandjeff, Sharon Schaffner, Janet Wilson, Golda Boyle, Gladys Potillo, Clara Huber, Estelle Johnson, Jan Kohl, Delores Allen, Lois Lester, Dorothy Allen.

Co-hostesses for afternoon were Carol Fischer and Mrs. Mary Miller.

All professional home economists are welcome to attend the meeting, especially those living or working in the counties of Bond, Calhoun, Clinton, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington, according to Carol C. Schlitt, District V public relations chairman.

Dr. Ria Fretters, vice president of Business Affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be the keynote speaker. Her talk will explore personal traits necessary for women in upward mobility.

Guest speakers at the luncheon will be Margaret Esposito of Bloomington, IHEA state president, and Susan Kears, Illinois State University at Normal, state vice-president.

A mini-workshop on "Picture Framing" and a tour of the U'Ban Earth Home, located near the meeting site, will be featured during the afternoon sessions.

For further information or to register in advance, those interested are invited to contact Mrs. Meyer, at 876-1280.

APRIL BRIDE. Mrs. Harry C. Miller, the former Miss Debra J. Arrowsmith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Arrowsmith, Rural Route One, Fowler, Ill., and Harry C. Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Miller, 2505 Hemlock Ave., were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Quincy, Ill. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, 2505 Hemlock Ave.

Debra Arrowsmith and Harry Miller are wed

Miss Debra J. Arrowsmith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Arrowsmith, Rural Route One, Fowler, Ill., and Harry C. Miller, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Miller, 2505 Hemlock Ave., were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Quincy, Ill.

Palms and daisy floral arrangements decorated the sanctuary for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Ewald J. Otto. Selected organ music was provided by Edwin Brackensick.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Arrowsmith wore a long Chammae knit gown designed with a molded bodice, oval neckline and fitted midriff accented with Venice lace.

The full chiffon sleeves were gathered into fitted cuffs, closed with tiny pearl buttons and edged in matching lace. Her flare skirt terminated with a shaped hemline which extended into a chapel train.

She wore a bouffant veil of bridal illusion, secured to an open lace caplet and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath and green ivy.

Maid of honor Miss Sandy Morris selected a formal length Empire style Quina gown in an apricot hue, worn with a long sleeve chiffon floral jacket.

Mrs. Jim Palmer, matron of honor, chose a mint green dress identical to the honor attendant.

Tracey Arrowsmith, a sister of the bride, served as flower girl. She was dressed in a yellow princess style frock created in a Quina knit with long full gathered sleeves of voile. All the attendants held bouquets of white daisies and pom poms intermingled with baby's breath in shades to match their attire.

Kevin Newell, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer. Rick Paschdag of Granite City, attended the groom as best man.

Brent and Randy Arrowsmith, brothers of the bride, and Jerry Miller, the groom's brother from Granite City, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Miller received guests at an afternoon reception held in the church basement and later in the evening at a wedding dinner at the Elmo McClain Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller, parents of the groom, entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at the Flamingo Restaurant in Quincy, Friday evening.

The couple departed on a wedding trip to Nashville and Memphis, Tenn., after the reception and will be at their home in Washington, D.C., after April 22.

The bride graduated in 1974 from Quincy Senior High School and was employed at the Gardner-Denver Co.

A 1972 graduate of South High School, the groom is currently stationed in Washington, D.C., while serving with the U.S. Navy. He also is a member of the Loyd Order of the Moose in Granite City.

St. Peter's Guild hears Mrs. Padgett

Mrs. Judy Padgett spoke on the organization of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and its programs and projects, at the afternoon Guild of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, meeting Thursday.

During her talk she also discussed the five homes and a church to open to the public in conjunction with the House Tour on Sunday, May 7, sponsored by the DNRS.

Bouquets of yellow jonquils centered the tables for a dessert luncheon served to 40 members and guests, arranged by Mrs. Janet Harmon and Mrs. Joy Causey.

The business meeting followed the program with Mrs. Dorothy Miller, president, presiding. She announced meditation day has been rescheduled for Friday, April 21, in Mascoutah.

Members agreed to donate cookies to the young adult group for their square dancing session, on April 15, to be held in Fellowship Hall.

On Wednesday, May 3, the guild will host the Southern Illinois workshop for representatives of United Church of Christ churches, it was noted. The event is expected to attract 50 persons and will be in session from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Arrangements will be under the direction of Special Events Chairman Mrs. Mildred Fehling.

Also announced were plans for the Church Women United May Fellowship luncheon, set for May 5, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

The theme for this year will be "Promises We Keep."

An election of Officers to serve for the 1978-79 year was held with Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse named president, Mrs. Virginia McLeister, vice-president, Mrs. Dorothy Buente, secretary, and Mrs. Loretta Hurry, treasurer.

Installation ceremonies will be held in August and the newly elected officers will preside at their first meeting in September, according to the retiring president.

World traveling evangelist in Madison

Howard "Todd" Taylor, a world traveling evangelist and now pastor of an Alton church, is leading the revival at the First Baptist Church, Fifth Street and Alton Avenue, Madison.

Services are being held nightly through April 16, starting at 7:30. The Rev. Paul Davis, pastor, said. The public is invited to attend.

Nursery care is provided each evening and special singing groups from various area churches are offering their talents to the program each night, the minister said.

Paul Crocker of Troy is serving as music director for the revival series.

The Rev. Taylor, a native of Valley, Ill., is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Alton.

He has pastored churches in Illinois for 40 years and has conducted evangelistic crusades in cities across the United States and in Jamaica, South Africa, Trinidad, Venezuela, as well as Alaska and Hawaii.

REV. HOWARD TAYLOR
Leading Revival

Director of 30 crusades in foreign countries, the minister has traveled extensively throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and South America. The Rev. Taylor has directed six Youth Crusades to Jamaica, at which time the youth and their sponsors conducted vacation Bible schools and evangelistic services there. On his last crusade in Jamaica, there were 540 professions of faith offered, the Rev. Davis said.

Plans are now being formulated for the second simultaneous evangelistic crusade in the Republic of South Africa, in conjunction with a fourth tour of the Holy Land, scheduled in September.

The Rev. Taylor has served the Southern Baptist denomination in a number of strategic state and national positions. He is experienced in dealing with all ages of people and puts their needs and concerns first, the Rev. Davis said.

His messages are Bible-centered, evangelistic and marked by faithful exhortation, practical admonition and humor, the local pastor said. Each pastorate the Rev. Taylor has administered stands out as an example of what can be accomplished by God's people with dedicated leadership, he added.

GOP Women's Club views defense film

The Granite City Republican Women's Club viewed a film on defense last week shown by Hugh L. Enright at the Grand Cafe.

Entitled "Price of Peace and Freedom" the film opened with the late John F. Kennedy speaking on defense on Oct. 22, 1963.

Other portions of the film showed Alexander Salzaentz warning the United States about losing the race for power, and noting the Warsaw Pact rated superiority to the Soviets three to one including submarines.

Some new members will be ready in 1980 it was noted and General Daniel Jones Jr., North American Defense commander stressed our need for defense.

After the film a business meeting was held with Roy Lynn giving the invocation and the pledge to the flag.

A secretary's report was read by Mrs. Lillie Ann Firmer in the absence of Gladys Pape, and Eva Meier gave the treasurers statement.

Announcement was made by Judy Nemeth that the Madison County Federation of Republican Women's Clubs will hold its spring meeting at 6:30 p.m., April 17, in the Columbus

Room of Schlemers in Edwardsville.

Edna Lynn reported on a plan for Illinois stressing at home care for the elderly and Brenda Reese announced commitment man for precinct 33.

Brenda Reese attended a county board session.

Cards were signed and sent to Genevieve McCombs, Toni Lynch and Alfred Papes who are patients in the hospital, according to Ruth Lucas.

Mrs. Elma Hoover spoke on projects relating to the senior citizens in the community.

Guests present were Daniel J. Stack and his wife, Janet Wilson.

Program chairman, Louise Duko said the May 2 meeting will begin at 6 p.m. at the Grand Cafe.

MRS. MARIE HIGGINS
HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Marie Higgins, 3253 Edgewood Ave., was admitted to DePaul Community Health Center, St. Louis, on Sunday. She is in room 516 and her telephone number is 1-314-344-6616 and would like to hear from her friends and relatives, according to a family spokesman. Mrs. Higgins will be a patient there for an undetermined length of time.

Conference tonight at Grace Baptist

The Madison County Baptist Association will host an evangelistic conference from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. today and at 7 to 9 p.m., today, at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards st., according to Dr. Jack Fritts, pastor.

A combined 50-voice choir of the association churches will perform during the evening session under the direction of Robert Patton, who is also in charge of the music for each session.

Speakers for the conference will be the Rev. Ted Padgett, pastor of First Baptist Church, Fairfield, Ill., John Somers, Director of Evangelism Illinois Baptist State Association, Springfield, Rev. Vernon Dodson, of Meadowbrook Baptist Church, Moro, Ill., and Rev. Bill Fox of Lakeview Southern Baptist Church, Fairview Heights.

NEUROLOGICAL WORKSHOP

A workshop on common neurological disorders will be offered by SIUE for nurses wishing to expand their knowledge in health care delivery. The three-day workshop, co-sponsored by St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton, will meet April 20 in the Madison Room of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. and in the Mississippi Room of the Center on April 27, 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., and May 4, 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Town costs $1.3 million

Granite City Township expenditures during the 1977-78 year — including the cost of constructing the new township building at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue — totaled $1,279,000 in all of the Township's four major accounts, Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer reported to Town Board members last week.

The Town Board, made up of

City Council members, approved the report during its first meeting in the new town building. The report will be presented at the annual meeting of town electors which is to be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, also in the Town Hall building.

Hagnauer's report showed expenditures in the town fund during the past year amounted to $287,500, while expenditures in the general assistance fund totaled $239,104.

Expenses of the federal revenue sharing, from which construction costs for the new town building were paid, amounted to $831,346. The township also spent $41,143 out of the anti-recession fund, the report said.

Hagnauer reported that the township ended the fiscal year on Feb. 28 with balances in all four accounts, including $34,883 in the town fund, $781 in the general assistance fund, $29,582 in the revenue sharing account and $10,978 in the anti-recession fund.

In the town fund, expenditures included salary and expenses of $21,619 for officeholders, including $4,696 salary and $1,100 expenses for Von Dee Cruise, township assessor; $3,712 salary for William Hagnauer; $10,794 salary and $1,100 expenses for Von Dee

Madison restores canopies

The Madison Board of Education Thursday night approved construction of two canopies on the new middle school under construction.

The estimated cost of the canopy on the east side of the building is $18,943 and on the west side of the building $13,311. Estimated electrical cost for installation on the east side is $1,000 and for the west side $500. The canopies originally were on the building plans but had been tabled due to cost.

However, the board now feels that it will be necessary to provide protection from bad weather to students getting on and off the buses, in addition to persons attending functions at the school.

Grading and compacting of the soil is nearing completion and, according to a school spokesman, the foundation may be poured near the end of the week.

Board Member Richard Zeisler was elected to represent and cast the board's vote at a meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

Approved payment of $25 to the Illinois High School Association for 1978-79 dues. Authorized two classes of third graders from Harris school to visit the Wonder Bread Bakery in St. Louis on May 10.

Approved plans of the safety patrol at Dunbar School to attend a ball game at Busch Stadium on April 15 in the evening.

Approved presentation of a talent show at Dunbar School on Friday, April 28, and to have a television sports announcer from St. Louis talk to the students before the end of the school year.

Approved the sale of sweatshirts and tee-shirts as a fund-raising activity by the Blair School Parents Club.

Approved the use of Louis Baer School cafeteria on Tuesdays from 3:15 p.m. until 4:15 p.m. for Girl Scout meetings.

Approved a fund-raising project by the Madison High School Choral Club and a fund-raising project by the National Honor Society at MHS.

Granted permission for the MHS annual band trip to Chicago.

Approved the MHS Humanities classes field trip to the St. Louis Arch and other area attractions near the Arch on Tuesday, April 25.

Children's showcase at GC library April 17-21

The Children's Book Showcase will be on exhibit in the Children's Room of the Granite City Public Library from April 17 to April 21.

Purpose of the exhibit is to focus attention on the graphics and aesthetic elements that are important in the evaluation of children's books, according to Cheryl Hillmer, children's librarian.

The exhibit consists of 42 children's books that were selected for inclusion in the showcase because of the high quality of their design, illustration, and production. The Children's Showcase concept was initiated in 1972 by the Children's Book Council, and showcase exhibits have been presented throughout the country over the last five years.

The showcase is made available through the cooperation of the Granite City Public Library's Children's Department, the Lewis and Clark Library System, the Illinois State Library and Alan J. Dixon, secretary of state and state librarian.

May recommend board appointee

The Madison branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is seeking names of persons who feel qualified to serve on the Madison School Board.

According to John H. Williams, branch president, the group will discuss making a recommendation during the NAACP meeting to be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Friendship Baptist Church, 301 N. Broadway St., Madison.

The Madison School board is scheduled to fill by appointment a one-year vacancy created by the resignation of Harold Fisk.

E. Coast supplied by Illinois Power

Electric utility systems in Illinois, eastern Wisconsin, northern Michigan and eastern Missouri served in a pivotal role during the recent coal strike through a regional reliability council called the Mid-America Interpool Network (MAIN).

These systems not only scheduled electric energy from areas to the south, north and west in order to send it to the hard-pressed states to the east but in many instances supplied electricity from their own facilities.

Members of MAIN are: Associated Electric Cooperative, Inc.; Central Illinois Light Co.; Central Illinois Public Service Co.; City Water Light and Power, Springfield, Ill.; Commonwealth Edison Co.; Illinois Power Co.; Madison Gas and Electric Co.; Southern Illinois Power Cooperative; Union Electric Co.; Upper Meramec Power Co.; Wisconsin Electric Power Co. System; Wisconsin Power and Light Co. and Wisconsin Public Service Corp.

J. M. Williams, manager of energy supply for Illinois Power Company, said Friday, "MAIN honored almost every request for power from the east; we either passed through what we were getting from surplus areas or supplied it ourselves."

MAIN's ability to serve as the quarterback between "have" and "have-not" systems is made possible by high voltage transmission lines which run the length and breadth of the four-state power pool and interconnect with transmission networks in adjacent regions, Williams said.

Electricity produced in Oklahoma can be used in Indiana in an instant. The MAIN members themselves prepared for the coal strike by obtaining as much additional coal supplies as they could prior to last December.

A detailed coal report on a company-by-company basis was begun last October in order to give MAIN members a running account of the coal supply status. In addition, MAIN data was readily available to the state and federal regulatory bodies when required.

Maintenance work on power plants was performed with the greatest expediency so they would be ready for service throughout the winter, and in some cases was re-scheduled to make maximum use of available fuel supplies, Williams said.

Prior to and during the coal strike, MAIN members turned to the west for additional coal supplies to extend their "on the ground" coal stocks. While this was expensive, it served to hold off electricity shortages in the companies' service areas.

"A bulkhead" of electric generation during the many months of the strike was the nuclear capability of MAIN," a MAIN spokesman said.

"As some parts of the country had to curtail service to customers, the nuclear units of the federal revenue sharing fund amounted to $797,106, including $659,662 to S.M. Wilson & Co. for construction costs. Furnishings cost $19,784. A total of $62,140 was paid to the Granite City Realty Co. for purchase of ground for a parking lot.

In addition, the township paid $39,709 in municipal retirement fund fees, leaving a balance in that fund of $9,992 at the end of the year.

Jason A. Wise dies at home

Jason Alan Wise, 5 1/2 months old, was found without signs of life in his bed at 8:45 a.m. Sunday and was pronounced dead at 9:10 a.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg.

An autopsy was to be conducted to determine the cause of death. The infant's father, Robert Wise, said the child was fed and to bed about 6 p.m. Saturday and woke crying at about 10 p.m., but went back to sleep.

He noted the child was to have had a check-up with a pediatrician Friday, but it was necessary to cancel the appointment.

The infant was born in Granite City. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Vicki Turner) Wise, 78 Parktowne West.

Other survivors include grandparents, Mrs. Dolly Wise, Robert Turner and Mrs. Mitzi Turner, all of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

220-mile bike tour

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a two-day, 220-mile bicycle tour, Saturday and Sunday, May 20-21.

The tour, sponsored by SIUE Campus Recreation, will begin on campus at 6 a.m. May 20. Riders will follow a route through Troy, Lebanon, Coulterville and DeSoto before ending the tour at SIU in Carbondale. Dormitories on the Carbondale campus will provide accommodations that night.

Riders on the return trip Sunday, May 21, will pass through Murphysboro, Chester, Runa and Millstadt. The trip will end on the local campus.

The terrain for the trip is mostly flat farmland, with hills near both campuses.

According to members of the campus recreation staff, the ride is not unorthodox. Entitled "SIUE E-C 78," it is one of 30 similar events, along with more than 70 one-day, 100-mile rides, held nationwide each year.

To be in good physical condition for the trip, participants should have logged 500 miles prior to the ride and should be able to ride 40 miles per day. The tour also needs people to assist in setting up signs, to move equipment, and to assist stranded riders.

A fee of $8 is required for housing and meals. A maximum of $15 could be required for voluntary options, which include Friday, May 19, lodging at the SIUE campus, dinner in Carbondale, Sunday morning breakfast and a user fee for the recreation center on the Carbondale campus. There also will be a $2 charge for registration after May 1.

Interested persons under 16 years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

Further information may be obtained by calling Campus Recreation at 692-2020. Those interested in participating may send a self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of SIUE, Box 58.

Flayers' Mineral Area Meet

BELEVILLE — East St. Louis Senior High's Flyers continued its dominance of the prep track scene here Saturday when they out-classed the field enroute to an easy victory in the Mineral Area Meet at Belleville East High School.

The Flyers finished with 105 points, easily out-distancing runner-up Springfield Southeast which had 34.

Granite City South finished in sixth place with 13 points. Granite City North was in a three-way tie for seventh with Sparta and Centralia with nine points.

MADISON finished just one point behind North with eight points, along with Belleville East and Lebanon.

The entire field looked this way: East St. Louis 105 points, Springfield Southeast 34, Alton 21, East St. Louis Lincoln 18, Belleville West 17, Granite City South 13, Granite City North, Centralia and Sparta nine points, Madison Lebanon and Belleville East eight points, St. Paul-Highland seven, Collinsville and Mt. Vernon five each, Edwardsville 4½, O'Fallon 3, Columbia 2½ and Cahokia 2.

Dupo, Waterloo and Freeburg failed to score.

Four records were set for the meet, including one in the 440-yard dash by Madison's Ernest Davenport. He ran the distance in :49.6, breaking the previous mark set last year by East St. Louis' Darnell Bell at :49.8.

East St. Louis runner Dwight Goldsby was second behind Davenport in :50.5.

NORTH's Mike Baker, Belleville West's Bob Weilmuenster and St. Paul-Highland's Mark Capelle got together for the area's "dirty mile race," and the Belleville miler came out the winner.

Weilmuenster ran the mile in 4:25.4, Baker was second in 4:27.2 and Capelle was third in 4:29.1. North's Greg Stout was fifth in 4:39.0.

The North two-mile relay team of Baker, Aaron Hickman, Stuart and Glenn Edwards finished second in that event in a time of 8:06.6. East St. Louis Lincoln won it in 8:05.5.

SOUTH's Cliff Moran was second in the pole vault with a vault of 13 feet, six inches. He was out at 14 feet. East St. Louis' Larry James won the event and set a new meet record in the process when he vaulted 14 feet, seven inches. That broke the old record of Granite City's Bob Kratz set in 1973.

James attempted 15 feet, but could not clear that height.

Jay Heubner of South was second in the shot put with a toss of 52 feet, four inches. He was also third in the discus.

The Madison 440-yard relay team of Troy Butler, Sylvester Collins, James Heard and Davenport placed fourth in that event in a time of :44.5.

"They're simply awesome," North Coach Harry Lang said of East St. Louis. "They've established that winning tradition which in turn makes them hungrier. Maybe that one kid they needed to make a strong relay team will now come out for the team because he wants to be a part of that winning tradition."

South Coach Don Miller echoed Lang's appraisal of the Flyers. "When they've got so many students to draw from in a community of that size, it just about makes them unbeatable."

The next action for Madison will be tomorrow (Tuesday) at home against Columbia beginning at 4 p.m. North will host Centralia Wednesday at 4 p.m. and South will travel to Cahokia Thursday for another 4 p.m. meet.

Diamond Warriors in pair, 9-2, 8-2

Improving their 1978 record to 6-2, the Granite City High School baseball Warriors have now chalked up their sixth win in the last seven outings.

Meeting Greenville here Saturday, Coach Conrad Champion's sluggers stopped the visitors 9-2 and 8-2.

With Al Yount Jr. going the first five innings to attain the victory and Mark Linhart pitching the last two innings, South won the opener while outlasting Greenville 9-5.

The Warriors committed four errors to the visitors' three. Greenville did its only scoring in the second and third innings. The Warriors wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard. Jim Thurman walked in the first inning and Jim Elliott base on a wild pitch before scoring on John Kerkovich's single to rightfield. After advancing on an error and a sacrifice bunt, Kerkovich scored on Jeff Tretter's fielder's choice.

In the second inning, Larry Ponder walked, stole, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on Thurman's grounder. The lead increased to 4-2 in the third frame when Tretter was hit by a pitch, reached third base with the aid of a wild pitch and crossed the plate as Tony Elliott singled to leftfield.

A three-run fourth saw Kerkovich single, Larry Heagy triple and Tretter homer. In the sixth, designated hitter Tretter continued to perform that task, singling before Pat Hogan walked. Dan Schaus singled, driving in Tretter and sending Hogan to third base, and Heagy scored on a passed ball.

Tretter totaled two hits, including his third 1978 home run, and three RBIs, while Kerkovich contributed two hits. In the finale, Tim Kirksey garnered the 8-2 win with a four-inning effort. The Warriors had a 6-4 hitting advantage. Each team committed two errors.

A six-run first inning proved decisive. Tom Henrich first in the 11-yard high hurdles in :18.6 followed by teammate Debbie Engleman in :20.

Denise Goode of South was first in the 110-yard high hurdles in :18.6 followed by teammate Debbie Engleman in :20.

NORTH'S LAURA CHAPPELL PERFORMS IN THE FLOOR EXERCISES AT EDWARDSVILLE

Text and photos
by Pete Hayes

A busy Saturday

If someone complains to you about there not being anything to do in this area on Saturdays either he's deliberately lying or he's been living under a rock.

Take this past Saturday for instance. There was a doubleheader baseball game at Granite City South High School for openers. Then there was the opening day of the Tri Cities Area YMCA Spring Soccer program which went on all day and continued through Sunday.

Then there was the big Mineral Area Track Meet in Belleville in which both Granite City high schools as well as Madison High were entered.

Girls' gymnastics got underway in its first season for Granite City schools in a triangular meet at Edwardsville which involved both North and South.

Besides the spectator sports, there were tennis courts open in Wilson Park, softball leagues getting ready to organize for summer play, joggers out doing their thing... the list goes on and on.

So if someone says there isn't anything to do around here on Saturdays... don't listen to him.

Shemwell on Greenville team

Coach Lynn Simpson has announced her selections to the 1978 Greenville College Panthers Women's Softball Team. Kathy Shemwell, a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School North will be playing second base and shortstop for the Lady Panthers in their twenty-two game schedule this season. The Panthers will be trying to improve on their 18-6 record of last year where they were also champions of the I.A.A.W. District Five and team runner up in the state tournament. Kathy is a junior, majoring in physical education. The Panthers will host the Illinois State Small College Softball Tournament May 11-12 in Greenville.

Bill would set stage for gym at university

Senate Bill 1506, sponsored by Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, and introduced in the Illinois Senate last week, appropriates $641,000 to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees for planning and preparation of construction documents for a building to provide health education, physical education and recreation programs at the SIUE campus.

If passed, it would take effect July 1, 1979.

"These funds are necessary to continue planning for this facility to take it to the construction stage," Sen. Vadalabene said.

"In the 79th General Assembly, Senate Bill 214 appropriated $191,000 for initial planning. This bill was passed and signed by the governor."

"SIU at Edwardsville is the only major institution of higher education in Illinois without a permanent physical education-recreation-athletic facility."

"As a result, the university, which serves upwards of 11,000 students in the second most populated program that even pretends to adequacy."

"It is now operating with an inflated, vinyl-dacron-weave bubble of 18,000 square feet as its only indoor facility."

"The bubble gym at best has a life expectancy of two to three years, and is hardly adequate even now. It is unhealthily chilly in the winter and dangerously warm during the summer, being unadaptable to temperature regulation at a realistic cost," Vadalabene commented.

"The most recently available figures for net assignable square feet of space for the purposes of the proposed facility — in relation to student headcount at the University — is 2.136."

"Chicago Circle campus presently has 7,623 NASF per student, SIUC has 11,940, Western Illinois has 13,382, while Eastern Illinois can use 13,348."

"Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is at the bottom of the list for all state institutions in this regard, with existing space temporary and inadequate."

"If the university is to offer a decent physical education program, provide reasonable recreation offerings, and compete on a modest basis in inter-collegiate athletics, the completion of such a facility as contemplated by Bill 1506 is immediately urgent," Vadalabene continued.

"Even if the planning and construction process were to be completed under the most ideal imaginable time projection of three to four years, we will still be faced with a year or two during which programs will be severely curtailed at best. The intercollegiate athletic program will become even more attenuated."

"If the process can proceed as quickly as possible, the university envisions construction of a building costing $11 million, making available 144,000 gross square feet."

"Under present policies guiding physical education, recreation and athletics, the structure should be reasonably adequate for the foreseeable future."

"With the passage of time, however, the amount of space which can be made available will be subject to the dynamics of the construction market place."

"Further delay will only mean that meeting an absolute necessity — for the integrity of the institution as a resource of higher learning and service to a major region of the state — will become even more expensive."

"The monies are needed desperately, and they are needed now," Sen. Vadalabene concluded.

GIFT OF $25,000 is presented to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the McDonnell Douglas Personnel Charity Trust. The gift was announced in a letter from David G. Hall, executive secretary of the Trust, to Sister Mary Thomas, president of the hospital. The money will be used to help in the current expansion program here. Pictured from left to right are J. Fred Tolley, Mitchell

Milnski, who is a member of the hospital board of directors, Carl M. Hinkle, Sister Mary Thomas, Robert L. Harforn, who is vice-chairman of the Personnel Charity Trust of McDonnell Douglas, Juanita Garrett and O. Baye Gilliland. Tolley, Hinkle, Juanita Garrett and O. Baye Gilliland are members of the board of the Charity Trust.

Appointed to Air Force Academy

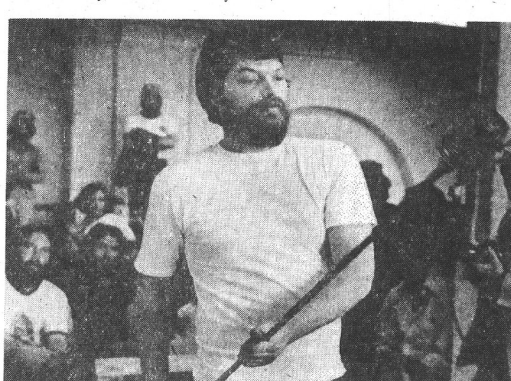

Barry Ward Briggs, 18, of 3207 Erin Drive, has been appointed to the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., according to a letter he received from Congressman Melvin Price.

He will report at the academy on June 26 to begin training as a member of the class of 1982.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Evelyn) Briggs, he will graduate from South High School on June 3.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Letterman's Club and is listed in the American High School Athlete book, for his interest and participation in high school sports and for his high scholastic ability.

The local student served as goalie for the winning soccer team in 1976-77 and was on the wrestling team. He was told he also will participate in wrestling and soccer at the academy.

GLASS-BLOWING demonstration at SIUE. Dick Huss, who operates a glass studio in Stillwater, Minn., demonstrates the art of glass-blowing to students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The event was part of a Distinguished Artist Series being presented by the Office of Academic Affairs and the School of Fine Arts and Communications. While on campus, Huss conducted workshops for art and design students and the public.

Mrs. Knackstedt dies

Mrs. Katherine Knackstedt, 92, formerly of 2209 Iowa St., died at 7 a.m. Saturday in St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient nine weeks. She had been ill the past two years and a patient at Colonial Haven Nursing home.

Born in Worden, Ill., she lived here 67 years and was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church.

Her husband, Frank Knackstedt, died June 5, 1964. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ted (Helen) Johnson of Troy, Ill.; one son, Robert Johnson of Granite City, one sister, Mrs. Emma Voss of Lincoln, Neb., four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are in today's obituary column.

VANDALS DAMAGE FENCE
Vandals struck a section of the chain link fencing at the home of Bill Webner, 101 Wilson Park Lane, damaging the fence and a post, he reported at 10:40 p.m. Thursday.

WALLET STOLEN
Nel Montgomery, 2418 Anchorage, reported her wallet was stolen from her home at 4 p.m. Thursday. The wallet contained $50 in cash, personal papers and credit cards.

Youth alcohol abuse trend called serious

Nearly 80 per cent of youths aged 12 to 18 have used alcohol and estimates are that 500,000 of these youths are addicted to alcohol, a doubling in the past ten years.

This is only a small portion of the total student population but, according to social workers, nevertheless alarming. For every alcoholic, five to six other persons are adversely affected, it is contended.

In a paper to be presented to 700 at the National Association of Social Workers' first national conference of school social workers April 13-15 in Washington, Tom Roy and Richard Shields state that alcohol use and abuse are positively related to poor classroom performance, behavior, truancy and delinquency.

Although age, family and peer influences and community norms all affect the pattern of youth alcohol use, Roy and Shields feel that more important consideration is that teenagers constituting a significant number of teens "also consider drugs and alcohol important personal issues with deep and private meaning."

"School social workers and all school personnel must understand the permeating and widespread effects of the multi-dimensional problem of youth alcohol use," according to Roy and Shields, "so that any education program undertaken within the school system clearly recognizes the differences between abusers, users and non-users."

They see the youth alcohol problem as three-dimensional

1. A small number of youthful alcoholics probably began drinking early and came from an alcohol-consuming family.

2. With the onset of adolescence, most youths will experiment with alcohol because of the influence of peer groups; while most will successfully pass through this stage, many others will go on to lives of alcohol abuse.

During adolescence, youths experience conflict over the social acceptability of drinking — "When will I be old enough? How much is too much? If adults can drink, it can't be all bad," etc.

They recommend that information about alcohol be given to all youths as early as the primary grades. In conjunction with this, for students who do drink, schools should develop selective programs that reinforce responsible attitudes or form new ones toward the use of alcohol, they added.

Finally, Roy and Shields suggest that intensive, specialized programs be developed for youthful alcohol abusers who persist, despite educational programs, to abuse alcohol.

Mrs. Olsen dies at 82

Mrs. Jessie Mae Olsen, 82, of 2006 Kirkpatrick Homes, a 50-year resident of Granite City, died at 4:30 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was a patient at the hospital for five weeks. Mrs. Olsen was born in Ellington, Mo. She was a member of Niederrhein United Methodist Church.

Her husband, Albert Olsen, died May 21, 1965.

Survivors include one son, James Olsen of Granite City, a brother, Paul Copeland of St. Louis and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Testimonial dinner to honor Johnson

The Madison Board of Education voted Thursday night to prepare a letter and present a plaque to Joshua Johnson, former Madison school administrator.

Johnson has announced his retirement from the Illinois Office of Education. A special testimonial dinner is planned on Sunday, April 30, at the Holiday Inn-East, Springfield.

Johnson served under four Illinois superintendents of public instruction beginning with Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. of Granite City who was formerly superintendent of schools in Madison while Johnson was principal at Dunbar School.

Johnson also worked with the Illinois Youth Commission and as assistant superintendent of schools in Chicago.

The dinner will be open to the public, but reservations must be made and paid for before

Thursday, April 20.

More information may be obtained by contacting Madison Superintendent of Schools John Falchett at 877-1712.

Last week Johnson was appointed by Gov. James Thompson as a member of a new State Board of Elections, subject to confirmation by the senate.

CASH REGISTER TAKEN
Between 5:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. Saturday thieves entered Ruby's Cafe, 2405 Illinois Ave., taking an electric cash register, an undetermined amount of change and an AM-FM radio.

Two children discovered the front door had been forced and told their parents. The cash register apparently came open as a trail of change led outside and toward Illinois Avenue.

For

A number of years ago Avocados were considered a thing of luxury, but today, national production and year-around availability from California and Florida have made this delicacy a common table item. Avocados are best for eating when they yield to light pressure on the outer rind. Like pears and bananas they may be purchased slightly underripe and ripened at ordinary room temperatures. Serve when ripe. Use as appetizer or in salads. One-half Avocado contains 132 calories. Provides more than 10% of recommended daily allowance for Vitamin A, C and E.
